PRICE THREE CENTS

SENATORS FOR EXCESS PROFIT TAX REPEAL NEXT DEC. 31

Agreement Reached Without Record Vote After Defeat of Proposals by Reed to Retain All or Part of Levy.

FOUR REPUBLICANS WITH MISSOURIAN

Democrat, in Fight for Levy, Says Repeal Means Business Concerns Can Profit to Extent of $1,750,000.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Repeal of the excess profits tax on next Dec.
31 was agreed upon today by the Senate without a record vote.

This was the third of the six major proposals in the revenue revision bill to come to a vote in the Senate in the one month to a day since the measure was reported by the Finance Committee. Next will come the fixing of the normal corporation income tax, and votes on proposals to increase the inheritance taxes and repeal many of the so-called revenue taxes.

The vote today was the result of the first agreement to be reached between the Democrats and Republicans on the bill, which came after Democratic leaders had refused to consent to the limiting of debate on each amendment to 10 minutes for each speaker and that on the bill to one hour.

Reed Proposal to Retain Excess Profits Tax Repealed.
The Senate voted last night, 39 to 17, against retaining the excess profits tax after next January 1 at the present rates. The proposal was offered by Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, who immediately afterward proposed retention of the profits tax at reduced rates.

Four Republicans—Borah, Kenyon, La Follette and Norbeck—joined the small Democratic minority in supporting the first Reed amendment.

Without a record vote, the Senate adopted an amendment by Senator Trammell, Democrat, Florida, providing that, in case a taxpayer borrows money to purchase or carry Federal securities, he may deduct in computing his net income only the difference between the amount of the interest paid on the indebtedness and the amount received in interest on the securities.

Opening the attack on the proposition to repeal the excess profits tax, Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, declared this proposition was "the most monstrous ever put before the American Senate."

Declaring that, on the basis of the Treasury estimate of $450,000,000 in profits taxes this year, business concerns would make $1,750,000,000 excess profits this year, Senator Reed said:

"We propose to say to the farmer who has lost money, to the small income earner who is struggling every day to make both ends meet, 'You must pay taxes wrong from you by process of hardship, but we propose to take the taxes off those who have made money by making prices so high they have deprived you people of a large part of your earnings.'"

Senator Reed declared that the proposals in the tax bill to reduce the taxes paid by "the profiteers and the very rich to the amount of $540,000, 000 a year" were written in to reduce pledges which he charged were made by the Republicans to subscribers to campaign funds.

"This bill," he said, "was brought before with the surplus on great income reduced to 32 per cent, which deprived the Government of $90,000, 000 in revenue and left it in the hands of the extremely rich, and it was brought here with the excess profits tax cut out, and that represents the staggering sum of $450, 000,000." Added to this, he said, the capital stock tax was eliminated, leaving to the Government $75,000, 000.

Giving notice that, if a proposal to

"MIRACLE MAN" ARRESTED BY HEALTH DEPARTMENT OFFICER

Purveyor of "Miracle" Apparatus Charged With Practicing Medicine Without License.

W. B. Thompson of Los Angeles, who has been holding forth as "The Miracle Man" at Alhambra Grotto Hall, Grand and Magnolia avenues, was arrested at 2:30 this afternoon by a Health Department Inspector on a charge of holding himself out as a physician and practicing medicine without a license.

Thompson has said, in his talks, that he is a graduate physician. It is alleged, however, that he has not a license to practice in Missouri. His arrest was ordered by Health Commissioner Starkloff after a conference with Prosecuting Attorney Oakley.

As has been told in the Post-Dispatch, Thompson, wearing a flowered silk kimono, has lectured in the Grotto hall, and has sold coarse-toothed aluminum combs, rubber rings and other bits of medical apparatus, the use of which has been described in his talks. He particularly recommended the comb for relieving pain. Besides the sale of these articles, "The Miracle Man" has been taking up collections at his meetings.

WOMEN VOTERS' MESSENGER WELCOMED AT WHITE HOUSE

President Harding Personally Thanks League for Its Expression on Amendment Limiting.

The League of Women Voters today received from President Harding a personal acknowledgment of the reception at the White House of Mrs. Sarah Spraggon, first personal messenger from the league, carrying one of its petitions favoring limitation of armaments, and urging that sessions of the conference be public.

The petition taken to Washington by Mrs. Spraggon contained more than 400 signatures, which were obtained at the first public meeting of the league in the interest of limitation of armaments, which was a luncheon at Hotel Statler Oct. 8.

MAN HIT BY AUTO SATURDAY DIES IN THE CITY HOSPITAL

Edward Stollies, 42 years old, of 2319 Sidney street, died today in the city hospital from injuries which were inflicted last Saturday night, when he was struck by an automobile at Jefferson avenue and Victor street.

The automobile was driven by a member of the Jefferson Barracks Corps, who was driving on the accident said Stollies had turned back after starting across the street, just after he had stepped off a Jefferson car. No arrest was made at the time.

LAMPERT WILL LEAVING BULK OF ESTATE TO SISTER UPHELD

A jury this afternoon in Judge Rutledge's court returned a verdict sustaining the will of Jacob Lampert, wealthy cigar manufacturer, in which the bulk of his estate was left to his sister, Mrs. Rosa Graff of 5349 Pershing avenue. The case has been on trial since Oct. 10.

The contestants comprised 11 nieces and nephews of Lampert, who alleged that their uncle had been unduly influenced by Mrs.
Graff in making his bequest.

One bequest of the will provides that $25,000 shall go to the Mason Home.

TURPENTINE USED TO DESTROY HOUSE, WITNESSES SAY

Testimony Opens in Trial of Arthur B. McDonald, Real Estate Man Accused of Arson.

TWO MEN SAY THEY PREPARED FOR FIRE

Defendant Flatly Contradicts Their Statement and Says He Did Not Own Burned Building.

After 12 continuances, Arthur B. McDonald of 4921 Park View place, a real estate man, was put on trial in Judge Landwehr's division of the Criminal Court yesterday afternoon, on the charge of arson in the third degree, growing out of the alleged burning of a five-room residence at 3001 Vine Grove avenue, Feb. 14, 1916.

McDonald took the stand this afternoon and denied the charge against him.

McDonald was originally indicted in June, 1918. This indictment was dismissed, but a new one was found in December, 1919. Joseph B. Payne was indicted jointly with him, but before the trial started Payne's case was nolle prossed to enable use of him as a witness.

The case was set for trial Monday in Judge Hall's court, but Mc-Donald asked for a change of venue.
Judge Hall conferred with Judge Landwehr and they agreed on a rule that whenever a change of venue is taken for the apparent purpose of obtaining delay, the Judge to whose court it is transferred will place it on the docket for immediate trial. Judge Hall granted the change of venue and Judge Landwehr put the case on the docket for Tuesday.

Defendant's Cousin Testifies.

William A. Pewitt, now of Kansas City, a cousin of Payne, testified that McDonald induced him to enter a plot to burn the house and gave him $100 to make preparations. He testified that they bought 15 gallons of turpentine and carried it out to the house on street cars. It was distributed in buckets and tubs and the witness said he placed a lighted candle in a box soaked with turpentine, which caused the destruction of the house and contents, consisting of furniture, some of which had been bought on time payments, and an old piano which was bought for $35.

The house was insured for $2400 and the contents for $600, he said.
On cross-examination, Pewitt admitted that he and McDonald had had trouble, and that McDonald had loaned him money. He said also that at times McDonald owed him money. He admitted that they quarreled over money which McDonald owed him, and admitted that he had been convicted of burglary and arson in St. Louis County. He served time for burglary in his youth, he said, but was paroled after conviction of arson.

At the fall of 1915 McDonald called on him and admitted that he had been convicted of burglary and
ter conviction of arson.

Each month that he occupied the house McDonald brought him a rent receipt and they talked over the plans for burning it. He helped Pewitt get the turpentine and stored it in a room on the second floor. He sent his wife and four children away to Rolla, Mo., and on the night that the house was burned he was away.
He got the $600 insurance on the furniture.

After the fire, he said, McDonald complained that it was not a good job and that he was having trouble with the insurance companies about the adjustment.

McDonald testified, denying all the statements of Pewitt and Payne. He denied ownership of the house, saying that the deed of trust was owned by Miss Mary E. Arndt of 4921 Park View place, and that he collected the rent for her.

PRINCE OF WALES LEAVES LONDON FOR INDIA TRIP

Disturbed Conditions in Eastern Empire Cause Some Apprehension for Royal Tourist.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Prince of Wales today left London to prepare for his visit to India on the battle cruiser Renown.

The Renown will land the Prince at Bombay, in which city will begin a series of formal functions arranged in every city he will visit. Following his progress through India, the Prince will go to Tokio, where he will return the visit in England of Crown Prince Hirohito.

Anxiety over the Prince's journey has been caused by the troubled political conditions in Great Britain's empire in the East. The possibility of an attack on him is minimized, but it is feared the Indian Nationalists, led by Mahatma Gandhi, will carry out their threat to call strikes in each city visited by the party, and that the resulting situation may injure British prestige.

JURY GETS CASE OF DR. HADLEY, ACCUSED OF MURDERING WIFE

Her Body, With Wire Fastened Around It, Was Found in the James River in 1918.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 26.—The case of Dr. Wilmart Amos Hadley, former army surgeon, charged with the murder of his wife, Mrs. Sue Kathleen Tinsley Hadley, whose body was found in James River near here on Dec. 30, 1918, was given to the jury today.

"My opinion," Coroner Bright testified, "is that death was due to drowning. The presence of wire was the evidence of foul play."

Ryland C. Epps, negro, told of seeing Dr. Hadley and a woman enter a boat near the station, would be between Armistice day and Thanksgiving, 1918.

IRISH CONFEREES PUT OFF COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Government Officials Busy With Departure of Prince of Wales for India.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Announcement that no meeting of the Irish conference, or of the committee trying to find a formula by which the negotiations may continue, would be held today was made here shortly before noon.

At the Dail Eireann headquarters it was declared the announcement had no significance, and that the continuance of the conference, as the representatives of the British Government were extremely busy in connection with the departure of the Prince of Wales for India.

BEER FOR SICK AND SUFFERING

New Orleans Brewers Have Thousands of Barrels on Hand.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 26.—Local brewers announced today that they had thousands of barrels of real beer, ranging in content from 3 to 5 per cent, on hand, to relieve the sick and suffering of the city.

Hugh Larre, State Prohibition District, was swamped with inquiries from the brewers as to how soon the real stuff could be drawn from the cooling and aging vats and under what conditions it could be dispersed.

EARTH SHOCK IN ITALIAN CITIES

MILAN, Oct. 26.—Earthquake shocks were felt in the cities of Massa and Carrara, on the Tuscan Coast of Italy, last night. Considerable damage was done and the frightened people of both cities camped during the night in the open fields.

SCHACHNER FIRM SUED FOR $109,153 BY CANDY CONCERN

Missouri Sweets, Inc., Demands Accounting, Alleging Brokers Failed to Turn Over Collections.

ACTION BASED ON AUDIT OF BOOKS

Brokers Declared to Have Received $389,685 Above Commission for Stocks, Turned Over $280,534.

A suit for an accounting in which it is alleged that the W. L. Schachner Co., stock and bond brokers in the Central National Bank Building, owes $109,153.38 to the Missouri Sweets, Inc., which operates the Mother Goose candy shop at Seventh and Olive streets, was filed today in the Circuit Court by Orla M. Hill, an attorney in the Chemical Building, acting for the board of directors of the candy company. The petition alleges that this amount was collected from sales of stock in the candy company but was turned into its treasury or expended for it.

The suit is based upon an audit by the National Tax and Audit Co. of books in the Schachner office relating to its dealings with the candy company, which it promoted.

The showing of that audit, as recited in the directors' petition, is that the Schachner company sold and delivered $437,245.25 par value of the stock of the candy company to 1400 persons in and about St. Louis, from whom it received $322,879.29 cash and stocks, bonds, diamonds, automobiles, Florida lands and other things of a value of $109,197.35, or a total of $432,986.64. The amount stated to have been turned into the candy company treasury or expended for it was $280,534.10, leaving a balance of $152,452.54. Deducting a commission of 10 per cent, or $43,- 298.66, on stock sales, which the Schachner company asserted in a blue-sky application to the State Banking Commission would be its charge for selling the stock, the sum alleged to be due becomes $109,- 153.38.

The petition further recites that, in addition to the stock sales disclosed by the audit, the Schachner company sold 228 shares of stock to 18 other persons, the price obtained being unknown. Hill said that this fact was disclosed by persons coming to the company's office with stock certificates, no record of the issuance of which, was found in Schachner's office. "The auditors found very incomplete company records from which to work," Hill said, "and their task was thus very difficult. The record of stock issued was substantially correct. These were not even bound, but were delivered to the auditors loose."

The petition also attacks many of the statements made by the Schach-ner company in an application to the State Bank Commissioner to be permitted to sell stock of the Missouri Sweets, Inc. The application stated that the entire issue of the candy company would be sold by the Schachner company. The present petition declares that no contract between the candy company and the Schachner company for the sale of stock ever was made.

"Nearly 200 stockholders, which was attached to the application, which was filed July 20, 1920. The board of directors declares in its petition that stockholders' meetings were held on July 23, 26 and 28, 1920, and that the minutes of the meetings disclosed that at that time the company had only one stockholder."

A statement of the finances of the company in the application to the Bank Commissioner listed among considerations received for common stock of the company "plant, $20,- 000; patents, $10,000."

The petition declares that the petition was filed on Page 3, Column 2.

Former President of Company, Which Is Accused By Old Employee

J. D. MORTIMER.

HEAD OF UNION ELECTRIC SAYS HE PUT STOP TO LACLEDE ARRANGEMENT

Louis H. Egan Asserts He Dismissed Fay After Learning of Plan to Pay Laclede Employee for Information.

Louis H. Egan, president of the Union Electric Light and Power Co., when asked today by the Post-Dispatch for a statement in behalf of the company as to William Fay's allegations, said:

"Some time after I became president of the company in May, 1920, I was informed by somebody in New York of some of the details of the arrangement by which an employee of the Laclede Gas Light Co., was being paid for supposed information of business that it was aghast after of business that I did not consider credible, and I immediately began to stop it."

"I did not discuss the matter with the Laclede employee, but Mr. Fay's extra money was stopped. I was unable to learn that Fay was performing any service of value to the company and I called him in and told him we would discontinue his services. He told me he had a life contract, but, of course, he had no contract. He said I had no right to dismiss him, and to satisfy him, thoroughly I obtained a letter from the North American Co. dismissing him."

Gave Fay Check for $2400.
"In my office he told me of all this matter concerning the Laclede employee. I told him I was not interested and didn't want to know anything about it. My recollection is that this conversation occurred after I had taken the first steps to remove Fay from the payroll. He claimed several months' salary was due him. I told him he had been employed by the company for a long time, that I wanted to be entirely fair to him, and that I would pay him the two or three months' salary and also three or four months more to give him time to make another connection. I think his statement that I gave him a check for $2400 is correct."

"Fay told me at the time that the company would pay for his dismissal.
I told him I was not interested, that the Union Electric was going to be conducted clean and on the square, and I say now that if anybody else has anything to show that it is not that way, I want them to bring it out.
I don't know of anything."

"As to the statement regarding supposed negotiations with the Laclede Gas Light Co., regarding city lighting contracts, and applications for rate increase, there absolutely is nothing to it. Fay on one occasion brought me a Laclede rate schedule.
I handed it back to him with the statement that it contained nothing which interested me."

Laclede Operating at Capacity.
"The facts are that the Laclede for several years has been operating at the capacity of its electrical plant.
It could not take business from us because it could not handle the business. I have a letter from Director Hoove to the Chamber of Commerce committee supervising bond expenditures, which contains the statement that the Union company is the only one which could possibly handle downtown lighting, and that under the Keyes ordinance other companies could not obtain the conduit space."

"We were not interested in what the Laclede did about rates for electricity. Its business amounts to about one-twelfth of our business, and we do not consider it a competitor."

J. D. Mortimer, who resigned as president of the North American Co. in March, 1920, could not be reached today for a statement.

5 FIRMS SUE FOR $116,268 UNDER STATE ANTITRUST ACT

William Fay, Former Engineer for Union Electric, Says He Paid $150 a Month to Laclede Employee Who Agreed Not to Take on Union's Customers.

EGAN PUT END TO DEALINGS IN 1920

Business Concerns Alleged They Were Prevented by Conspiracy From Availing Themselves of Lower Laclede Co. Rates.

The Union Electric Light and Power Co. of St. Louis and the North American Co. of New York, which control it, are charged, in a suit filed by five St.
Louis mercantile and manufacturing companies late yesterday afternoon, with having violated the State antitrust law by an agreement under which the only local competitor, the Laclede Gas Light Co., would not take business away from Union Electric.

The additional charge was made in a statement issued by William Fay of 5540 Pershing avenue, after the filing of the suits, that Union Electric and North American corrupted an employee of the Laclede Gas Light Co. in a plan to stifle competition in the furnishing of electric light and power.

Fay, until the fall of 1920, was consulting engineer for the Union Electric company, and, according to his statement he had also been employed by the North American Co. since 1909. He alleges that he was the go-between for an officer of the North American Company in the payment of money to a Laclede Gas Light Co. employee, who agreed to cause the Laclede company to refuse to sell light and power current to customers of Union Electric who desired to change to Laclede service.

Suits Ask for $116,268.
In the suits filed in the Circuit Court yesterday the petitioners ask that the Court award them a total of $116,268, including treble damages as authorized by the State antitrust laws.

The actual losses alleged, which the Court is asked to treble, amount to $38,766. The petitioners allege that because the Union Electric charged a much higher rate than Laclede Gas, they lost the amounts named in their suits by reason of having to use Union Electric service when Laclede service was denied to them in fur-sue of the alleged agreement.

Plaintiffs in the Suits.
The companies suing and the amount of actual rate payment loss alleged in each case, are the Wilson Lumber Co., $4888.23; Brown Shoe Co., $1716.61; trustees for the McQuay-Norris Manufacturing Co., $13,421.39; Stark-Inland Machine Co., $4194.23, and the St.
Louis Brass Manufacturing Co., $4848.55.

All of the petitions make substantially the same allegations. While different attorneys represent the plaintiff companies, all of the petitions were filed through the law firm

FORMER EMPLOYE OF UNION ELECTRIC CO. TELLS OF ALLEGED RATE PLOT

DETAILS OF DEALINGS WITH LACLEDE COMPANY EMPLOYEE GIVEN BY WILLIAM FAY

Asserts Payments of $150 a Month Were Made to Prevent Loss of Customers to Concern Having Lower Rates.

The prepared statement given out for publication by William Fay, with the elimination of the names which he gave as those of the men for whom he acted as a go-between in preventing the Laclede Gas Light Co. from taking customers from the Union Electric Light and Power Co., follows:

The suits filed today (Tuesday) are based upon information I have given the various firms and their attorneys, and there are a very large number of additional firms who have similar claims.

For about 25 years I have been in the service of the electric companies of St. Louis. On two occasions contracts for service with the Union Electric Light and Power Co. were violated and broken without reason. Finally in 1909 I was engaged with the North American Co. I asked for a contract and was told that I could not give a contract, but that I was employed for life, and if the contract was broken by me I was at liberty to divulge any matters that came to me in the course of my employment.

Charges Contract Was Broken. In the summer of 1920, without reason, they broke this contract with me, and insisted upon my giving them a release to preclude me from instituting an action for damages. During this time I gathered a great deal of data pertaining to the conduct of the Union company and the North American Co. with their customers.

This is the data and facts upon which these suits are based. In addition to my own testimony, I have numerous letters and telegrams and other exhibits which will more than amply prove the claims of these concerns.

My first joint employment by the Union Electric Light and Power Co. and the North American Co. was in 1909. My principal duties at that time were to go around to places where they were operating individual plants and try to induce them to take service from the Union and abolish their own plants. I also investigated a number of electric light plants to ascertain their conditions and the amount of power generated and to furnish my employers generally all information upon these competitive companies.

Finally in 1917, I was employed by Mr. J. D. Mortimer, president of the North American Co., and also president of the Union Electric Light and Power Co., and directed to work upon the Union Electric Light Co. The Laclede company at this time was in the electric business as well as gas, and was attacking some of the best customers of the Union Electric Light and Power Co.

I was directed to get in touch with Mr. — of the Laclede company, and see if I could not arrange some plan whereby the two companies could enlarge upon their then agreements. At that time it was stated to me that they were agreeing upon the question of connections and disconnections where parties failed to pay their bills.

Pursuant to this instruction I called upon Mr. — and stated to him the wishes of Mr. —. He told me he would investigate it and see what arrangements he might make and report to me. I was to call on him within three days. I called and was advised that he could not make the arrangement, the company was opposed to it, but that he could himself control it. I wanted to know upon what basis; he answered upon payment to him of $150 per month he would handle the situation.

Reports on Scheme. I reported to Mr. — by word of mouth at the Union Electric Co.'s offices the basis that he would operate under. I was instructed by Mr. — to engage him, and they would furnish me with the funds to pay his monthly charge. I reported to Mr. — that the arrangement that he suggested would be satisfactory; that he would be paid the amount of money he wanted. This operation was put into effect and continued for about six months, at which time Mr. — advised that it was not working out satisfactorily; that the Laclede company was still taking over some of the Union's customers.

I went to see Mr. — and told him what Mr. — said, and Mr. — stated that Mr. —, Holman's brother-in-law, was in the employ of the Gas Light company in the contract department, and that some of the business would slip by him (Mr. —), and he could not prevent it on account of Holman's brother-in-law being there and getting the contracts. The scheme that Mr. — wanted carried out was that Mr. — should solicit new business that interfered with the Union company, and if it should come into the Laclede office voluntarily to find some excuse for refusing it, and under no circumstances to accept it. Because this scheme was not working to the satisfaction of Mr. —, Mr. — was stopped, because at that time he could not do what was wanted by Mr. — and the Union company.

Tells of Instructions. About six months later I was approached again by Mr. —, and he told me that the Union company desired to ask for an increase in their rates, and as he understood the gas company was not going to ask for an increase because the gas company was figuring on asking for an increase in the gas schedule first, and for this reason they did not intend to apply for an increase upon their electric schedule until they disposed of the gas schedule. He told me it would be absolutely necessary to make some arrangement with Mr. — to stop the customers of the Union company from going to the Laclede company under these circumstances; that the company would go to the Laclede company because their rates were lower, and Mr. — anticipated a run of his customers to the Laclede company. He, Mr. —, also told me that he wanted to change the contract, and to do this was going to ask the Public Service Commission for authority to make a charge for connection, and also ask the commission to limit the distance which the company would be required to carry service, and he wanted the Laclede company to make the same application. My instructions at this time were to get the Laclede company to agree to do this through the influence of Mr. —.

Mr. — was approached and said he would take the matter up with his company and let me know. I also asked Mr. — much money he would require from me for his personal service in this matter. After one week Mr. — advised me that the arrangement could be made and put into effect. I reported to Mr. — the result of Mr. —'s conversation, and Mr. — authorized me to engage Mr. — whereby I was to pay Mr. — $150 per month, and any expense he might have in connection with keeping the customers of the Union company out of the hands of the Laclede company. I was allowed $200 per month to cover both this salary and my expense, and so to do this the exact date that this arrangement was made I do not recall, but it was some time in 1918. This can be proven by vouchers given by the North American Co. company. I was drawing $300 per month up to this time, and after this time they allowed me $200 more per month, thus making $500 they allowed. This arrangement was put into effect, and the month I received a voucher for $500 from the North American company.

Prior to December, 1918, the Union company made an application to the Public Service Commission for an increase in rates. I immediately advised Mr. — (the Laclede employee) that we were going to make this application, and he told me they would not make an application for an increase in electric rates until their application for an increase in gas rates had been disposed of.

Comparison of Rates. After this charge was granted the difference in rates between the Union company and the Laclede company can best be shown by the business of the Wiles-Chipman Lumber Co.; their business for several months to the Union company, and what they would have paid had the Laclede company furnished service as follows:

November 1918, Union company $767.38; Laclede company $414.80. December 1918, Union company $741.52; Laclede company $418.76. January 1919, Union company $768.80; Laclede company $418.76. February 1919, Union company $745.02; Laclede company $419.54. From time to time thereafter I had conversations with Mr. — and he was telling me constantly they were refusing to take customers who were making application to the Laclede company for service. Among these are the firms who have today instituted suit, Wiles-Chipman Lumber Co., McQuay-Norris Manufacturing Co., Brown Shoe Co., Stark-Inland Machinery Co. and St. Louis Brass Manufacturing Co.

Excuses to Applicants. One excuse after another was given for failure to supply current to customers of the Union company who were making application to the Laclede company. Only new concerns who were not on the books of either company were known as open business, and the Laclede company, according to our arrangement, was free to negotiate with them. As a striking instance of unlawfully refusing to serve customers is that of the Wiles-Chipman Lumber Co. They were making application repeatedly for service, and were being refused upon one pretext or another. Finally prior to August, 1919, the Gibbins & Lohn company opened a plant on Kings highway south of Manchester avenue which immediately adjoins the plant of the Wiles-Chipman Lumber Co. The Gibbins & Lohn company was not a customer of the Union company, and the Laclede immediately gave them service, constructing a pole line into the premises of Gibbins & Lohn and taking this pole line directly through the premises of Wiles-Chipman Lumber Co. The cost of this connection was $150 to serve 200 kw. capacity, when prior to this time the Laclede company had told the Wiles-Chipman Lumber Co. that it would cost them $450 to carry service to their plant to serve them 160 kw. capacity. After the Laclede wires were run right through the premises of Wiles-Chipman Lumber Co. the latter company immediately demanded service of the Laclede company. This was done by letter sent to the company and turned over to me to take to the Union company. This letter is original to the Laclede company. This letter is as follows:

Aug. 9, 1919.

Laclede Gas Light Co., St. Louis, Mo.

Attention Mr. —: Having secured permit for erection of power and pole lines through our yards, we feel that your company should be in position to supply us advantageously with electric power for use in our plant here. We would like to have you name us standard rates covering same at your earliest convenience.

Trusting that we may get together on contract, beg to remain, Yours very truly, WILES-CHIPMAN LUMBER CO., I. R. L. Wiles, president.

False Report Alleged.

Upon receipt of this letter a new excuse had to be found to stop serving the Wiles-Chipman Lumber Co. Mr. —'s explanation was not satisfactory to Wiles-Chipman. They asked him if they could not take the matter up with Mr. Evans. He advised them they could. Mr. — advised Mr. Evans of the prospective visit and to reinforce his position had one of the engineers of the Laclede company make a false report as to conditions, so that the Wiles-Chipman Lumber Co. could again be refused. This report was made and the original turned over to me to exhibit to the Union company, which I did, then photographed and returned to the original to the gas company. This report is as follows:

May 16, 1919.

Copy to Mr. Evans.

Upon investigation I find that the circuit supplying Gibbins and Lohn is not as large as I expected. We are also supplying a larger territory with this circuit than I intended and if we are to supply Gibbins and Lohn 200 kw. we will be unable to take on an additional load of 140 kw. and furnish good service to consumers on this circuit. I, therefore, recommend that we do not take on the lumber company at this time.

(Signed) Wiles-Chipman was again refused and have never from that day to this been able to avail themselves of the service of the company rates, and as a result the loss to this one customer alone is between $200 and $400 per month. I could go on and cite innumerable instances similar to this.

Letter Bearing on Payments.

My regular salary was $200 per month. That the additional $200 was paid to take care of the Laclede company's operations is proved beyond a doubt by a letter I received from the North American Co. dated July 1, 1919. This came about when I had made my income tax report for the year previous. I had charged myself with this $500 per month as income, and paid income tax upon this basis. I charged the North American Co. with the difference between what my regular salary and the amount it was because I had included in the additional money the Laclede Gas Co.'s operations. When I demanded of them this payment they paid it for that year, and advised me not to return it in the future, and this was by a letter directed to me, which was as follows:

The North American Co., 30 Broad st., New York City, March 10, 1919.

To William Fay, 5330 Pershing av., St. Louis, Mo.

Dear Sir: In reply to your letter of March 4, I wish to state that $200 forwarded to you each month in addition to your salary of $300 per month, should not be reported by you in your income tax report. You did not receive it as income and we do not report it to the Government as having been paid to you as income. Yours very truly, ROBERT SEALY, Assistant Treasurer.

I made monthly reports to the North American Co. and the Union Co. as to what the Laclede Gas Light Co. was doing, giving them the most minor details of the business of the Laclede Co. This was all furnished me by Mr. — and I have in my files a copy of all these reports.

City Lighting Agreement. In 1920 the Laclede Co. through Mr. —, told me they would not bid on the city lighting contract, that they would leave the field open to the Union Co. without competition. I made report of this matter to the North American Co. which was on April 16, 1920. A copy of the letter is as follows:

St. Louis, April 16, 1920. The North American Co., 30 Broad street, New York City.

Gentlemen: Enclosed please find report of Laclede Gas Co., dated March 31, 1920, showing Kw. generation for month ending Wednesday, March 31, '20.

Service connection has been refused by L. G. Co. to eleven concerns requiring from 15 to 600 horsepower, including 1700 horsepower and many small consumers where service is less than 10 H. P. The firm of Nixdorf-Krein Mfg. Co., Ninth and Howard streets, using 600 horsepower, demands that requires your attention.

Frank Rusecka, Seventh and Cass avenue, at present a customer of the Union company line, which is under contract to the Laclede company, and I will see to it that this inquiry will be referred to the proper channels. Our mutual friend, E. V. Matlack, called Mr. C. L. Holman, just prior to April 1, and made insistent inquiries about the financial condition, dividends, and wanted names of stockholders. He also understood similar inquiries contemplated in connection with Union and your company, and that this gentleman is spending considerable time in counseling with Mr. W. Work of the C. L. Station Co. (L. and D. Co.).

I reported previously to Mr. Egan that the L. G. Co. would not bid on the city lighting contract and that such notice had been given to the city engineer (verbally).

Yours very truly,

(Signed) WILLIAM FAY. Along about this time, we were trying to induce the Laclede company to raise their electric rates so as to make their rates substantially like ours, and thus make it easier to hold our customers. This was one of the matters that I was required to report to the North American Co., which I did by letter, a copy of which is as follows:

St. Louis, Mo., April 21, 1920. The North American Co., 30 Broad street, New York City.

Gentlemen: Mr. Evans of the L. G. Co. has taken up in earnest the revision of the electric rates to conform to our schedule. Just as soon as the schedule has been completed, I will advise you for analysis and suggestion. When this schedule becomes effective, it will not be quite so difficult as at present, to dispose of your customers when applying to L. G. Co. for service.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) WILLIAM FAY. Statement as to Schedules.

About the time the Union Co. was making its check in its schedule, I was trying to get these schedules to take them to Mr. — so the gas company could make their schedules similar to ours. I went into the office of the Union Co. for the purpose of getting the schedule to take to Mr. — and saw Mr. Egan and Mr. Ruffner, both officers of the Union Co. They told me that the schedule was ready to take to the gas company. I went back a day or two later, and asked for it and they said the whole matter had been taken care of. I went to see Mr. — and he showed me the schedule of the Union Co., which Mr. Ruffner took to Mr. Holman a day or two previous to this time. This is the same schedule that Mr. Ruffner's hands at the Union office.

About April 28, 1920, I was given the Laclede Gas schedule to take to the Union Electric so they could look it over and see whether or not it was better than the schedule in Mr. —'s handwriting. I made up a typewritten statement and forwarded it to the North American Co. and sent a copy of it to Mr. Egan and kept the original. I made the rates of the two companies substantially the same, excepting on the first steps, where the gas company was a little lower than the Union, but on substantial customers the rate was approximately the same. Mr. Egan objected to this schedule because he said it did not balance. I reported back to the gas company, and we got into a row with them about it, and they refused to ask for any increase to this date. These negotiations about the schedule continued over for quite a period of time. Finally, on July 1, the North American Co. failed to send me the regular $500 monthly check, but in lieu the Union Co., through Mr. Spohrer, gave me a check for $250. I objected to receiving this and told him I was entitled to $500 from the North American Co., and he told me if that was so I would have to take it up directly with New York. Since the controversy about my income tax the North American Co. has been sending me a check for $500 each month, with two checks, one for $200, marked "salary," the other for $200, "for special services to the Union Co." or some similar language. After receiving the check for $250 from Mr. Spohrer I wired the North American Co. on July 6, as follows:

St. Louis, Mo., July 6, 1920. The North American Co., 30 Broad st., New York City.

Received at 3:30 N. Y. H. 21. NEW York, N. Y., 5:03 p. m., July 7, 1920. Mr. William Fay, 5330 Pershing av., St. Louis, Mo. Replying your message yesterday, Warner out of town, will not return until next week. Have you taken matter up with Egan? ROBERT SEALY, 5:48 p. m.

Robert Sealy, who signs the above telegram, was assistant treasurer of the North American Co.

Telegrams Exchanged. On the following day, July 8, 1920, I sent the following telegram:

St. Louis, July 8, 1920. To North American Co., 30 Broad st., New York City:

Your telegram seventh, signed by Sealy, replying to my wire sixth, received. Egan states through Spohrer that Union company contribution to your fund for my account is $250; amount in excess must be taken up with you. My agreement for personal services was made direct with your company when W. Workmore was president and can be changed only by our mutual consent. The $200 special fund was authorized by — and to be in force until cancelled notice was received by you, this order covered the controlling of certain Laclede Gas Light Company's operations and has been in effect over two and one-half years. My monthly receipts will show time and should be in your office files. I am awaiting your check for $250 to balance June account.

WILLIAM FAY. I received no response to this telegram, and on the following day, July 9, 1920, sent another telegram, which was as follows:

St. Louis, July 9, 1920. To North American Co., 30 Broad st., New York City:

Must have definite reply to my telegram eighth.

WILLIAM FAY. On the same day I received an answer to this telegram, which is as follows:

St. Louis, Mo. Egan advised discontinuance $200 payment. He is familiar with matter and is prepared to discuss the same with you.

ROBERT SEALY. On Oct. 21 Mr. Egan handed me a letter which was written by the North American Co., signed by C. S. Ruffner, notifying me my services were no longer needed. Mr. Egan wished to settle up with me at once. I told him my employment was for life, but that I recognized the fact that if I brought suit against the company I would be treated like everyone else. I would receive the steam roller, and therefore I did not intend to bring suit under the agreement. Mr. Egan stated I was taking a very sensible view of the matter, that it would probably result in the same result.

LACLEDE SUPERINTENDENT SAYS FAY PAID HIM ABOUT $1000 IN SIX YEARS

William Gallagher, superintendent of the electrical department of the Laclede Gas Light Co., today said to a Post-Dispatch reporter:

"All that stuff that Fay has given out is bunk, and I do not see his motive. I have known Fay 20 years, and I took money from him, possibly $1000, in the last six years, but this was fees for private engineering work that we jointly did."

"His duties were those of a business promotion engineer and mine are the same. If we can show a concern how we can supply electric current at lower cost than by private manufacture, that is my duty to the Laclede Co., and I understood this to have been Fay's duty to the Union Co."

Aided in Making Estimates. "On several occasions I helped Fay in figuring on big jobs of the kind for which he paid me a fee. Sometimes his company got the business and at other times we got the business."

"We figured together about four years ago on a plant at St. Charles, owned by a Chicago man who wanted to sell. The Union company operates at St. Charles and Fay said it would be interesting to get a price on it so that the North American Company could take it over. Fay paid me a fee for this work."

"Does your company permit you to take fees for work in the promotion of the purchase of electricity from public utilities?" Gallagher was asked.

He refused to take a check for some time, and a great majority of this was paid to him in cash. There were times, however, when I was not in the city, or times when I did not have the cash with me, that he did accept my check. Quite a number of these cancelled checks I have in my possession. In addition to the $150 per month I paid him his expenses. The principal expenses that Mr. — incurred were in getting information from other companies which furnished electric power, which I could not get.

According to the understanding he was to receive this as long as the Union Company received the benefits. I persisted in the Union company and North American Co. carrying out their obligations, and was advised by Mr. Egan that if I did not desist from insisting on carrying out the obligations to Mr. — that it might affect my personal interests. I continued to insist upon them carrying out their obligations, and the result was that on Sept. 3, I received the following telegram from the North American Co.:

New York, Sept. 3 p. m. 5:52. William Fay, 5855 Washington avenue, St. Louis, Mo.

Egan advised discontinuance $200 payment. He is familiar with matter and is prepared to discuss the same with you.

"I don't know," he answered. "I have taken them, and I would again take them. There is no rule against it."

Gallagher was asked if he had ever sought permission of his company to accept fees in addition to his salary, and he said he had not; that there was no rule against it, and he did not believe the company objected to the practice.

Tells of Some Payments. At different times in the last six years, he said, he received two payments in cash and about six checks from Fay for helping Fay in engineering work.

Gallagher said Fay had visited his office frequently in the last few years to talk electrical promotion work in general and was there a week ago Saturday.

Gallagher said he had never been called upon by President Holman or any officers of the Laclede company to explain the transactions with Fay and had never discussed them with anyone. He said the Wiles-Chipman Lumber Co. had never made application to the Laclede company for electric service, but that Fay had asked for it in behalf of the Wiles-Chipman company and was told that the line, running over their property to the Gibbins & Lohn Co., could not carry an additional load. Gallagher said he did not know what Fay's interest was in making this request.

Gallagher's salary is $360 a month. He has been employed by the Laclede company for about 30 years.

Charge Was Investigated. Charles Holman, president of the Laclede Gas Light Co., today said the allegations in the suit filed and in Fay's statement, as far as they related to the business of the Laclede company, had been known to the Laclede company for several months and had been discussed by officers of the company, the company's attorneys and the board of directors, and that they had become satisfied there was no fault by the Laclede company.

He said Gallagher did not pass upon the applications for service on which the suits were based, but that the applications were passed upon by higher officers. He said the allegations of engineering report in the Wiles-Chipman application was checked up by other engineers and had been found correct.

He denied there ever had been any negotiations between the Union and Laclede companies regarding applications for rate increases. He said the Laclede delayed filing an application for an electric rate increase because it had pending an application for a gas rate increase. He said it was feared the Public Service Commission, if both applications were before it, would compel the company to be satisfied with an increase in the electric rate, which would have meant little in the matter of increased revenue, and would deny the gas increase, which would mean much.

Rate Conspiracy Charged. The petitioners affirm that before the alleged agreement was made the Laclede Gas Light Co. had furnished current to all who applied for it, and that the changing of this policy as the result of an agreement be-between the competing companies was a combination in restraint of trade. All of the plaintiff companies and that in addition to treble damages the court award them amounting to $100,000, the fees and costs of the litigation.

Louis H. Egan, president of the Union Electric Light and Power Co., today said that shortly after he took office in May, 1920, he learned in New York that money was being paid through Fay on account of information supposed to be received from an employee of the Laclede Gas Light Co., that he did not consider it a creditable arrangement, and that he immediately ordered the payments stopped and discharged Fay.

After the filing of the suits at St. Louis, a Post-Dispatch reporter yesterday went to the law office of Foristel and Eagleton in the Title Guaranty Building, where Edward W. Foristel, a partner in the law firm, introduced him to Fay, who handed to the reporter a nine-page typewritten statement which started with the assertion that the suits filed yesterday were based on "informed" information which he gave to the plaintiff companies and their attorneys.

Attorney Foristel said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that the suits were based on information furnished by Fay, and that Fay would be the principal witness. He did not say who first brought Fay's charges to the attention of any of the plaintiff companies, but he said that Fay was not a partner in the Wiles-Chipman Lumber Co., but that the Wiles-Chipman Lumber Co. was investigating its claim against the Union Electric Co. This was after Fay had left the Union Electric, which he did in the fall of 1920, "leaving," Foristel said, "other claims turned up, and the suits were consolidated."

PROTEST IN SWEDEN IN VANZETTI-SACCO CASE

Resolutions by Syndicalists Declare Belief in Innocence of Men Convicted in Massachusetts.

By the Associated Press.
STOCKHOLM, Oct. 23.—Resolutions registering the "strongest protest against the attempted murder of our comrades, Rocco Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti," passed at a meeting of the Syndicalists here, have been forwarded to Ira Nelson Morris, American Minister to Sweden. Sacco and Vanzetti are Italian-Americans convicted of murder in Massachusetts, the finding of the Court against them being the subject of recent demonstrations in Paris which were featured by the sending of an infernal machine to Myron T. Herrick, the United States Ambassador to France.

The resolutions declare conviction of the innocence of the two men and demand their release. At another meeting of Syndicalists the resolutions were again adopted and the Syndicalist Executive Committee was instructed to confer with the Government for the purpose of asking it to intervene immediately for the release of several Swedish citizens under conviction by United States courts.

WHO ADMITS 100 BURGLARIES
Grand Jury Also Returns Bills Against Jeweler for Receiving Stolen Property.

James Carravalla of 2114A De Kalb street, who confessed on Oct. 14 that he committed about 100 burglaries, was indicted by the grand jury yesterday for eight of the burglaries, each indictment charging him with burglary in the second degree and larceny. The day after his confession he helped persons whose homes he had robbed to pick their belongings from a collection of his loot at police headquarters. Carravalla said he sold some of his loot to George L. Tisot, proprietor of a jewelry store at 1224 1/2 Chouteau avenue, and Tisot admitted buying a good deal of it in the belief Carravalla had obtained it legitimately. Four indictments were voted against Tisot for receiving stolen property. The police recovered much property at his store. James Reagan and John Klunellen were each indicted on two charges of robbery as the first degree. It was alleged that they robbed Edward Welshbrecht of $48 in his store, at 1709 North Twentieth street, and robbed a customer there. Ben Kreutzmann of 2708 North Twentieth street was indicted on charges of grand larceny and receiving stolen property. It was alleged he was in possession of an automobile which had been stolen from Frank O. Ballingall of 2216 Eads avenue. Siegel said he had bought the car from a man whose name he could not recall.

BOOKMAKERS STILL OPERATING BUT HAVE DISCARDED BADGES

Number of Deputy Sheriff on Beat at Dog House Said to be by Other Means.
The number of deputy sheriffs detailed at the dog race track at the St. Clair Amusement Co., at 4400 Bond avenue, a short distance outside of the city limits of East St. Louis, in order to prevent gambling on the results of the races, was increased yesterday because of the work they had to do. A. B. Farrell, chief deputy sheriff at East St. Louis, said that three of his deputies were kept away from the track yesterday by other duties. Farrell and four deputy sheriffs patrolled the paddock and other places where the crowds congregated, in accordance with the orders of Sheriff Schnipper to suppress gambling. The bookmakers, who operated in the paddock previous to the Sheriff's visit last Friday, are now seen in the space between the paddock and the grandstand. The bookies, however, which they formerly wore as distinguishing marks have been dispensed with, and they are less conspicuous in the handling of wagers. Officers of the amusement company say that if bookmakers are operating they are doing so without the knowledge and consent of the owners, and that the company receives no income from that source.

Louisville Labor Protests Against Vanzetti-Sacco Conviction.

By the Associated Press.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 24.—The United Trades and Labor Assembly, Louisville Central Labor Union, last night adopted resolutions protesting against the conviction of Bartolomeo Vanzetti and Nicolio Sacco, in Boston.

The resolutions, introduced by the bakers' delegation, and adopted without a dissenting vote, disapproved of the conviction on the ground that the men are representatives of the American Federation of Labor and that grave doubt exists as to their guilt.

The resolutions, a copy of which will be sent to Judge Webster Thayer, in Boston, make no mention of the recent demonstrations in France and Italy over the conviction of the men.

Grand Jury Also Returns Bills Against Jeweler for Receiving Stolen Property.
James Carravalla of 2114A De Kalb street, who confessed on Oct.
14 that he committed about 100 burglaries, was indicted by the grand jury yesterday for eight of the burglaries, each indictment charging him with burglary in the second degree and larceny. The day after his confession he helped persons whose homes he had robbed to pick their belongings from a collection of his loot at police headquarters.

Carravalla said he sold some of his loot to George L. Tissot, proprietor of a jewelry store at 1220 1/2 Chouteau avenue, and Tissot admitted buying a good deal of it. In the belief Carravalla had obtained it legitimately, four indictments were voted against Tissot for receiving stolen property. The police recovered much property at his store.

James Reagan and John Kieullen were each indicted on two charges of robbery in the first degree. It was alleged that they robbed Edward Wehrenbrecht of $30 in his store, at 1708 North Twentieth street, and robbed a customer there. Ben Kreutzmann of 1708 North Twentieth street, of 25 cents.

Henry Siegel was indicted on charges of grand larceny and receiving stolen property. It was alleged he was in possession of an automobile which had been stolen from Frank O. Ballingall of 3319 Eads avenue. Siegel said he had bought the car from a man whose name he could not recall.

Number of Deputy Sheriffs on Duty at Dog Races Called Away by Other Work.

The number of deputy sheriffs detailed at the dog race track of the St. Clair Amusement Co., at 4300 Bond avenue, a short distance outside of the city limits of East St.
Louis, in order to prevent gambling on the results of the races, was decreased yesterday because of other work they had to do.

A. R. Farrell, chief deputy sheriff at East St. Louis, said that three of his deputies were kept away from the track yesterday by other duties.
Farrell and four deputy sheriffs patrolled the paddock and other places where the crowds congregated, in accordance with the orders of Sheriff Schnipper to suppress gambling.

The bookmakers, who operated in the paddock previous to the Sheriff's visit last Friday, are now seen in the space between the paddock and

TAXICAB OWNER ACQUITTED

Man Who Parked Opposite Union Station Freed by Jury.

William M. Williams of 4450 Delor street, owner of a string of taxicabs, who was arrested Thursday on a charge of violating the taxicab stand ordinance by parking his cabs on the north side of Market street, opposite Union Station, was acquitted yesterday by a jury in Police Court. Williams testified that he had occupied the same place as a taxicab stand for seven years by virtue of a city permit to operate a taxicab service, and that when he was informed that he would have to get a special permit to maintain a stand he went to the Director of Streets and Sewers, who told him that he would have to obtain the approval of the Terminal Railroad Association. He said that six companies were permitted to use the south side of Market street, in front of Union Station, as taxicab stands.

GIRL, 12, KILLED BY HER UNCLE'S AUTO

Mother of Leona Viola Becherer Sees Accident in Front of Home in Belleville.

Leona Viola Becherer, 12 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Becherer, 2808 West Main street, Belleville, was killed in front of her home at 4 p. m. yesterday by an automobile driven by her uncle, Walter Schmeisser, 45, a coal dealer, residing at Lantz Station.

Mrs. Becherer, who was standing at her front gate, saw the accident and picked up her daughter. She hailed a passing automobile and, with her daughter in her arms, went to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where it was said that she had been instantly killed, her chest being crushed. The child had just alighted from a motor truck, on which she had ridden home from St. Mary's Catholic School, where she was a pupil, and was crossing the street toward her home when run over by her uncle's car. Schmeisser accompanied by his wife, was returning from a shopping tour in which he and Mrs. Schmeisser had purchased wedding gifts for Leona's sister, Virginia Becherer, who is engaged to be married Thanksgiving day.

Accident Verdict in Case of Man Hit by Auto on Grand Avenue.

A Coroner's verdict of accident was returned today in the case of Charles L. Moder, 32 years old, of 2642 Flora boulevard, who died at the Alexian Brothers' Hospital last night from injuries suffered Oct. 14, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Walter Warfield, 35, of 4520 Manchester avenue, a painter. He suffered a fractured hip and shoulder and internal injuries.

Warfield testified that he was driving south on Grand avenue ahead of a Grand avenue car and that Moder stepped from the curb, three feet in front of the automobile, to board the street car.

At the time of the accident, Moder was taken to his home. He declined to prosecute Warfield, and no arrest was made. Later Moder was removed to the hospital. After the death, the police were ordered to produce Warfield at the inquest.

Four Persons Are Injured in Three Automobile Accidents.

An unidentified negroess about 40 years old was rendered unconscious when struck by an automobile driven by Max Skinski, 52 years old, of 4912 Labadie avenue, a printer, at Union boulevard and Ridge avenue, at 6 o'clock last night. She was taken to the City Hospital No. 2, where doctors said she had sustained a broken skull and concussion of the brain. Skinski said the woman stepped from the sidewalk into the path of the auto.

Max Sibrach, 9 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Sibrach of 4663 Delmar boulevard, suffered a probable fracture of the skull and left arm at 2 p. m. when he was struck by an automobile driven by Frank Carr, chauffeur for Oscar Johnson of 38 Portland place, in front of 4660 Delmar boulevard. He was taken to his home. Police reported the boy attempted to cross the street 20 feet from the regular crossing.

John Warner, 26 years old, of 6002 Pershing, a negro, and an unidentified white boy about 6 years old, were injured when a truck in the Pershing Market, driven by Warner, collided with an automobile driven by Oliver Lawson of 5078A Delmar boulevard, at Delmar boulevard and Newstead avenue, at 4 p. m. The boy, the police were told, was run over by the truck after the collision, but disappeared from the scene and could not be located. Warner suffered scalp wounds and cuts and bruises.

HEALTH CRUSADE FOR BLIND

New Method Introduced Into School by Tuberculosis Society.

The Tuberculosis Society of St. Louis has introduced the Modern Health Crusade, the new "play" method of teaching good health rules to children, into the regular curriculum of the Missouri School for the Blind on Marquette avenue, and now is supplying the "chore" cards and other literature for the school print shop to put into Braille, or raised types, for use by the blind children. The Modern Health Crusade as adopted by the school is a simplified version of the crusade just completed by the Tuberculosis Society and introduced into the schools of St. Louis County. The crusade is expected to be in full swing by Thanksgiving day. About 119 children in the elementary and grammar grades in the school will practice the chores.

THESE are unusually attractive Lamps and Lamp Shades, and an especially interesting feature is the fact that the Shades are interchangeable; in other words, if you choose a Lamp base, you may select any Shade in the sale to go with it, thus enabling you to make your own color combination, matching draperies, rugs and upholstery.

The prices during this event will be most attractive—therefore it is advisable that you plan to attend early tomorrow, for the Lamps will sell quickly. Choose yours first.

at Chattanooga Hears Song by Member of Lee's Staff.
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 25. The feature of the United Confederate Veterans' reunion today was the memorial service held when fitting tributes were paid to the memory of the officers and men of the three associations who have died during the past year. Services were conducted jointly by the United Confederate Veterans' Association, the Confederate Southern Memorial Association and the Sons of Confederate Veterans.

Preceding these solemn services, the three associations held business sessions. The U. C. V.'s session consisted of reading of reports and miscellaneous business. The Sons carried out a brief program of miscellaneous business. The program at the memorial service consisted of invocation by Dr. J. W. Bachman, chaplain-general, and devotional exercises consisting of the singing of hymns. Reading honor roll of Confederate Veterans—Gen. A. B. Booth, adjutant-general, and chief of staff, U. C. V.

Rev. B. A. Owen of Eagle Pass, Tex., delivered the oration, "Our Duty," and Rev. Giles B. Cook, chaplain-general of the Confederate Southern Memorial Association, sang "Lead, Kindly Light." Dr. Cook is the only survivor of Gen. Robert E. Lee's staff.

Folks Laugh at Corns Now

Millions Have Proved Them Needless. They Stop Them by a Touch

Do you know that one method is now ending corns for millions of people? People all around you employ it. They never let a corn pain twice. The method is Blue-jay—the liquid or the plaster. It is made by a surgical dressing house of world-wide reputation. A touch applies it, and the pain stops instantly. Soon the whole corn becomes and comes out.

The way is gentle, scientific, sure. Once you know it, you will laugh at corns.

Get Blue-jay now—apply it tonight. Watch the effect on one corn. Get Blue-jay at your druggist's.

HOME-MADE, BUT HAS NO EQUAL FOR COUGHS

Makes a family supply of really dependable cough medicine. Easily prepared, and saves about $2.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membrane that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

$5000 FAREWELL GIFT GIVEN TO DEAN DAVIS

Honors Paid to Christ Church Cathedral Clergyman Who Takes Eastern Post

A farewell dinner to Dean Carroll M. Davis of Christ Church Cathedral, held last night at the City Club, was attended by members of the Cathedral parish and by clergymen and leading laymen of other Episcopal churches.

Dean Davis is to leave in a few days for New York, where he will take up his new work as domestic secretary of the Department of Church Extension and Missions. In this position he will supervise the work of 17 missionary bishops. He will probably preach in the cathedral Sunday morning.

Bishop Daniel S. Tuttle presided at the dinner. James A. Waterworth, one of the lay speakers, presented Dean Davis on behalf of his friends with a check for $5000. Thomas K. Skinner was another lay speaker, and others who were called upon were Bishop Coadjutor Johnson, the Rev. Dr. Edmund Duckworth of the Church of the Redeemer, the Rev. Dr. W. C. Bittling of the Second Baptist Church and the Rev. J. Courtney Jones of Webster Groves.

The final talk was made by Dean Davis, who expressed deep feeling in leaving the cathedral, where he has served for 22 years, the last 25 years as dean.

PERSHING ACCEPTS FOR NOV. 3

General to Be Guest in St. Louis With Marshal Foch.

Gen. Pershing has accepted by wireless the invitation of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce to be in St. Louis with Marshal Foch of France Nov. 3. A telegram from Washington states that the General, at sea, has communicated by wireless with Senator Spencer, announcing that he will be in St. Louis on that date. The message is to be forwarded by Senator Spencer to Edward Hiddenher.

The Marshal and the General will come to St. Louis after attending the American Legion convention at Kansas City.

FIRE DAMAGES ORGAN MOTOR

The electric motor of the organ in Graham Memorial Chapel, Washington University, was damaged $1500 last night by a fire which may have resulted from crossed wires.

The motor was in the basement, and the chapel proper was only damaged by smoke which affected the surface of fine woodwork near the organ. Students who live in the nearby dormitories opened the chapel windows to let the smoke out.

Fire apparatus from St. Louis, Clayton and University City responded to an alarm. There was to have been an organ recital at the chapel tomorrow evening, but the organ may not be repaired for two months.

SUIT FILED IN CHICAGO TO TEST THE CAPPER-TINCHER LAW

Board of Trade Member Seeks Injunction Against Interference With Grain Future Trading.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Suit to test the constitutionality of the Capper-Tincher bill passed by Congress to regulate grain exchanges and put them under direction of the Secretary of Agriculture was filed in Federal District Court here yesterday by John Hill Jr., a member of the Chicago Board of Trade. The date for hearing of the petition was set by Judge Keneaw M. Landis for Nov. 7. Judge Landis ordered that no action be taken by any of the parties named pending the hearing.

In his petition Hill asked that Henry C. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture; Charles F. Byne, Federal District Attorney; John C. Cannon, Assistant District Attorney; Joseph Griffin, president of the Board of Trade, and other officers of the Board of Trade be restrained from interfering in the trading in grain futures.

Officers of the Board of Trade refused to take action and Hill acted as an individual member. The Capper-Tincher bill will go in effect Dec. 24 next.

Hill alleged that the Capper-Tincher measure would interfere with the grain supply and demand, and be detrimental to grain trade in general. His is the first suit filed to test the new law.

HEARING ON PROPOSED FOREST PARK CIRCLE

Mrs. James Campbell and Daughter Among Those Opposing Lindell Traffic Plan.

The Street Committee of the Board of Aldermen today heard arguments for and against the Lindell Circle, or Circle, planned as a means of solving the traffic problem at the Lindell boulevard entrance of Forest Park. Objection was made by Thomas C. Hennings, in behalf of Mrs. James Campbell of 2 Westmoreland place, and her daughter, Mrs. E. G. Burkham, to the endorsement which would be made upon the Campbell property at the northwest corner of King's highway and Lindell boulevard. He said Mrs. Campbell and her daughter intended to build a residence on the lot, and that the city's action might keep them from doing this. He said that, with the park at its disposal, the city should be able to solve the problem without condemning private land.

Hennings said the city's share of the expense might be as high as $150,000, and he asked whether the city could make this expenditure in the present state of its finances. J. E. Kuime, on behalf of the property at the southeast corner, made similar objections.

Henry Wright, architect for the city plan commission, replying to the objections, said that the chief purpose was to eliminate crossings by the circle method, and that to move the location farther into the park would destroy its value. He said he believed that entire cost for damages would not exceed $50,000.

Wright explained that the diameter of the whole project had been reduced from 370 to 360 feet, and said there was now no interference with the plans for the Hotel Cecil, on the Bixby lot at the northeast corner. The parked inner circle is to be of 230 feet diameter, surrounded by a 45-foot roadway and a 20-foot sidewalk.

A. P. Greenfelder, engineer, who looked into the matter for the Chamber of Commerce, and J. E. Price, representing the Kiwanis Club, commended the plan. The committee took the measure under advisement and Chairman Tammie said a report would be made before long.

Dr. Wirth's consent to form a new cabinet followed the receipt of an urgent letter from President Ebert, who declared the foreign political situation made impossible the postponement of the formation of a new ministry.

Woman, 94, Tells of Early Experiences in St. Louis

MRS. MARGARET DARST KELSO

Mrs. Margaret Darst Kelso, Who Came Here With Parents, in 1828, Celebrates Her Birthday.

Mrs. Margaret Darst Kelso celebrated her ninety-fourth birthday Monday at her home, 947 Maryville avenue, where she lives with her daughter, Mrs. F. M. Bell. She recalled St. Louis as it appeared in earlier days, when she was a little girl here, in conversation with a Post-Dispatch reporter. She told of being detained in a Federal prison here for three days during the Civil War for helping a Southern boy.

She came here with her parents in 1828, when she was a year old. Her father was John P. Darst, who was architect of the old Catholic Cathedral as it stands now on Walnut street, near Second. It was built in 1830 and was originally called "the Cathedral of St. Louis of France."

Mrs. Kelso was born in Hardinsburg, Ky. Her family made their first home here on Walnut street, near Fourth.

Fifth Street City Limits. "When I was a little girl," she said, "fifth street was the western city limits and there were woods at Ninth street. There were plenty of Indians then, who pitched their tents just outside town and only bothered us by begging food at back doors. The first railroad west of the Mississippi River was the Missouri Pacific, built just before the Civil War.

"The first 'bol-tall' horse car was considered the last word in city travel. We young folks used to go to the 'big mound' north of town for our picnics, or go to Chouteau's pond.

south of what is now Spruce street, near Ninth, to row. Moonlight nights we would walk on 'lovers' lane' along its shore.

"During the Civil War I told a Southern boy where he could find a woman who would get him through the Union lines. They couldn't find the woman who helped him, but they took me and held me prisoner at McDowell's College, Eighth and Gratiot streets. This was an old-time college which the Union troops that captured Camp Jackson utilized for a prison.

Was Prisoner Three Days. "They held me for three days, until Alexander Garesche, a lawyer, arranged my parole. One of my prison mates was the wife of Gen. Daniel M. Frost, commander of Missouri militia at Camp Jackson. She was released with her husband in an exchange of prisoners. The militiamen were captured because the Union troops thought their sympathies were with the South."

Mrs. Kelso married Alexander P. Kelso, who was connected with a wholesale dry goods house, in 1846, when she was 18. He died 20 years ago. She was the mother of seven children, of whom Mrs. Bell and Mrs. K. B. Macellan of California are the only survivors. Mrs. Kelso has 16 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren, most of whom visited her on her birthday, as well as many friends.

MOTION TO BRING ALL STILLMAN HEIRS INTO CASE IS DENIED

Justice Morschauer Declares Guy's Guardians Need Not Be Alarmed About His Rights.
By the Associated Press.
WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Supreme Court Justice Morschauer has denied a motion which sought to have all the heirs of the late James Stillman made co-defendants in the divorce proceedings brought by his son, James A. Stillman, banker, against Mrs. Anne U. Stillman and baby Guy Stillman, whose paternity is an issue in the case. The motion was made on behalf of the infant Guy by his guardian, John E. Mack, who said his purpose was to establish in the one divorce action not only the paternity of the child, but its right to share in the fortune left by the elder Stillman and in establishing this right to preclude its ever being questioned again. Justice Morschauer's denial yesterday declared the guardian need not be alarmed about the further protection of the infant's rights, as they "can and undoubtedly will be safeguarded."

WUERPEL SAYS
WIMAR PAINTINGS
HAVE BEEN RUINED

Director of St. Louis School of Fine Arts Advises That Works in Courthouse Have Painted Out.

THE ORIGINALS LEFT

Director McKelvey to Ask for Supplementary Appropriation to Repair Damage if Possible.

Following the reading of a report from Edmund H. Wuerpel, director of the St. Louis School of Fine Arts, Washington University, that the famous Carl Wimar historical panels in the dome of the Broadway courthouse had been so spoiled by the paint laid over them by James Lyon, interior decorator, that it would be advisable to paint them out altogether. Director of Public Safety McKelvey told members of the Hospital Art Commission in his office today that he would try to get the money for new paintings and the possible restoration of other frescos in the courthouse dome.

Wuerpel's Findings.
An excerpt from Wuerpel's report follows:

"I have no hesitation in saying that the pictures have been so thoroughly repainted that there is very little of the originals left. In one case there is an indication of the original tone in the foreground, but the other three panels there is nothing to indicate that any respec-tation of the originals was exercised.

"As for being restorations, they are merely paintings with some indication of the original design, but even this design, through inadequate craftsmanship and coloring, has been distorted. It might be possible to remove this fresh varnish and paint but I doubt very much that it could be done with entire success, as the originals were none too secure themselves, flaking off very easily without any superficial action. I fear that the removal of the fresh paint would further endanger the precarious condition of the Wimar paintings.

"Should Be Painted Out."

"I believe the paintings have been permanently injured and it would hardly pay to try the experiment of removing the new varnish and painting. There is nothing now that redeems the paintings from most common place mediocrity. They should be painted out, even if by doing this there would be nothing left but blank wall.

"The oval portraits underneath the panels might be restored to advantage, but they would have to be done over entirely and would not be the work of the original painter. The long, allegorical panels in this gallery have not been touched and it is possible to restore them.
They were of but meager value when the Wimar panels and would con-tainly have any value with the removal of the panels."

Demands Educational and Economic Equality for NegroesComplete Social and Racial Divergence Must Result, He Says, From a "Fundamental, Eternal and Inescapable Difference" in Races.

By the Associated Press.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 25.—

The right of the American negro to broader political, economic and educational advantages, based on a pride of race, but never on an aspiration for social equality, was championed by President Harding here today in a plainly worded enunciation of his views on the whole American race problem.The President's address, which brought him from Washington on his first extended trip into the South, since inauguration, was delivered at a semicentennial celebration of the founding of the city of Birmingham. It was devoted almost exclusively to the race question, although he also took occasion to praise the South for its industrial recovery and to renew his faith in the world leadership of a reunited United States.

Negro Migration to North.

He said, in part:

"The world war brought us to full recognition that the race problem is national rather than merely sectional. There are no authentic statistics, but it is common knowledge that the world war was marked by a great migration of colored people to the North and West. They were attracted by the demand for labor and the higher wages offered. It has brought the question of race closer to North and West, and, I believe, it has served to modify, somewhat, the views of those sections on this question. It has made the South realize its industrial dependence on the labor of the black man, and made the North realize the difficulties of the community in which two greatly differing races are brought to live side by side.""I should say that it has been responsible for a large charity on both sides, a beginning of better understanding, and in the light of that better understanding perhaps we shall be able to consider this problem as a problem of all sections and of all races, in whose solution the best intelligence of both must be enlisted.""Indeed we will be wise to recognize it wider yet. Whoever will take the time to read and ponder Mr. Lothrop Stoddard's book on the rising tide of color, or say, the thoughtful review of some recent literature on this question, which Dr. F. L. Lugard presented in a recent Edinburgh review, must realize that our race problem here in the United States is only a phase of a race issue that the whole world confronts. Surely we shall gain nothing by blinking the facts, but by facing to give thought to them. That is not the American way of approaching such issues."

Uniformity of Ideals.

"Mr. Lugard, in his recent essay, after surveying the world's problem of races, concludes thus:"Here, then, is the true conception of the inter-relationship of color—complete uniformity in ideals, absolute equality in the paths of knowledge and culture, equal opportunity for those who strive, equal admiration for those who achieve; in matters social and racial a separate path, each pursuing his own inherited traditions, preserving his own race purity, and race pride; equality in things spiritual; agreed divergence in the physical and matterial.""Here, it has seemed to me, is suggestion of the true way out.
Politically and economically there need be no occasion for great and permanent differentiation, for limitations of the individual's opportunity, provided that on both sides there shall be recognition of the absolute divergence in things social and racial. When I suggest the possibility of economic equality between the races, I mean it in precisely the same way and to the same extent that I would mean it if I spoke of equality of economic opportunity between members of the same race.
In each case, I would mean equality proportioned to the honest capacities and deserts of the individual."

No Social Equality.

"Men of both races may well stand uncompromisingly against every suggestion of social equality. Indeed, it would be helpful to have that word 'equality' eliminated from this consideration; to have it accepted on both sides that this is not a question of social equality, but a question of recognizing a fundamental, eternal and inescapable difference. We shall have made real progress when we develop an attitude in the public and community thought of both races which recognizes this difference.""Like the political aspect, I would say let the black man vote when he is fit to vote. Prohibit the white man from voting when he is unfit to vote. Especially I appeal to the white man to inculcate in it the wish to improve itself as a distinct race, with a hereditary, a set of traditions, an array of aspirations all its own. Out of such racial ambitions and pride will come natural segregations, without narrowing any rights, such as are proceeding in both rural and urban communities now in Southern States, satisfying natural inclinations andadding notably to happiness and contention.""On the other hand, I would insist upon equal educational opportunity for both. This does not mean that both would become equally educated within a generation or two generations, or 10 generations. Even men of the same race do not accomplish such an equality as that. But there must be such education among the colored people as will enable them to develop their own leaders, capable of understanding and sympathizing with such a differentiation between the races as I have suggested—leaders who will inspire the race with proper ideals of race pride, of national pride, of an honorable destiny, and important participation in the universal effort for advancement of humanity, as a whole.""Racial amalgamation there cannot be. Partnership of the races in developing the highest aims of all humanity there must be, if humanity not only here, but everywhere, is to achieve the ends which we have set for it."

Problem for the World.

"I can say to you people of the South, both white and black, that the time has passed when you are entitled to assume that this problem of races is peculiarly and particularly your problem. More and more it is becoming a problem of the North; more and more it is the problem of Africa, of South America, of the Pacific, of the South Seas, of the world. It is the problem of democracy everywhere. If we mean the things we say about democracy as the ideal political state.""I would accept that a black man cannot be a white man, and that he does not need and should not aspire to be as much like a white man as possible in order to accomplish the best that is possible for him. He should be encouraged to be the best black man, and not the best possible imitation of a white man.""It is a matter of the keenest national concern that the South shall not be encouraged to make its colored population a vast reservoir of ignorance to be drained away by the processes of migration into all other sections. That is what has been going on in recent years, at a rate so accelerated that it has caused this country as well as I have already said, no longer one of a particular section. Just as I do not wish the South to be politically entirely one party, just as I believe that it is bad for the youth, and for the rest of the country as well, so I have already said, no longer one of a particular section. Just as I do not wish the colored people to be entirely of one party. I wish that both the tradition of a solidly Democratic South and the tradition of a solidly Republican North might be broken up. No Neither political sectionalism nor any system of rigid groupings of the people will lift the long run prosper our country."

Educational Is Great Question.

"With such convictions, one must urge the people of the South to take advantage of their superior understanding of this problem and to assume an attitude toward it that will deserve the confidence of the colored people. Likewise, I plead with my own political party to lay aside every program that looks to lining up the black man as a mere political adjunct. Let there be an end of prejudice and of demagoguery in this line.
Let the South understand the menace which lies in forcing upon the black race an attitude of political solidarity.""Every consideration, it seems to me, brings us back, at last, to the question of education. When I speak of education as a part of this race question, I do not want the states or the nation to attempt to educate people, whether white or black, into something they are not fitted to be.
I have no sympathy with the half-baked altruism that would overstock us with doctors and lawyers, of whatever color, and leave us in need of the manual work of a workaday world.
But I would like to see an education that would fit every man not only to do his particular work as well as possible, but to rise to a higher plane if he would deserve it.
For that sort of education, I have no fears, whether it be given to a black man or a white man. From that sort of education, I believe, black and white men, the whole nation would draw immeasurable benefit.""It is possible that as a nation, we have come to the end of the period of very rapid increase in our population. Restricted immigration will reduce the rate of increase and force us back upon our older population to find people to do the simpler, physically harder, manual tasks.
This will require some difficult readjustments.""In anticipation of such a condition, the South may well recognize that North and West are likely to continue to increase in their population, and that if the South wishes to keep its fields producing and its industry still expanding it will have to compete for the services of the colored man. If it will realize its need for him and will treat him fairly with him, the South will be able to keep him in such

HOOVER WOULD GIVE RUSSIA ARMY SUPPLIESSecretary Suggests Turning Over Surplus Stocks for Relief in Famine Areas.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—

Congressional authority has been asked for the use of surplus army supplies in the famine areas of Russia, where from 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 people are starving, Secretary Hoover announced yesterday.Hoover made public a letter to Chairman Kahn of the House Military Affairs Committee, in which he called attention "to the very terrible situation in the Volga basin in Russia," and the efforts of private relief agencies to save as many lives as possible."These associations," he said, "are not able to command sufficient private charity to cover even a portion of the great famine area.""I am, therefore, addressing you in the hope that Congress might authorize the Secretary of War to donate to these associations such of the used clothing, surplus medical and food supplies as cannot be advantageously used by the army or as cannot be readily disposed of for cash. Secretary Weeks informs me that there are considerable quantities of such things costing the Government large amounts for storage and preservation. I believe a greater purpose could be found for their application than in saving human life in this great area of distress."

15,000,000 Persons in Danger.

At the same time Hoover made public a statement on famine conditions in Russia by Dr. Vernon Kellogg, secretary of the National Research Council, which declared that in the Volga famine area the lives of 15,000,000 persons were placed in direct jeopardy. He added that concentration of the food available in that area upon certain individuals throughout the year might mean the survival of seven or eight millions of this number."In any event," Dr. Kellogg said, "some number of from five to ten millions must be starved to death unless they are relieved from outside Russia. The actual number that can be protected by different relief organizations under their present program would probably not exceed one and a half millions, and this almost entirely children."Around this area, he continued, there is another area where there will be considerable mortality and throughout the balance of Russia there is no supply of food generally so that "the most vivid impression one receives of Russia is an entire population with its mind concentrated from day to day on securing food to the exclusion of practically all else."

Conditions in Tartar Republic.

Accompanying Hoover's letter to Representative Kahn was a survey of conditions in the Tartar Republic, an autonomous state under the soviet Government, by John P.
Gregg, an investigator of the American Relief Administration, which told of the failure of that Government to meet the famine needs of the people. He estimated the number of children in the republic at about 1,250,000, and declared the Government had enough food to feed about 11,500 of them for a month."The need for relief in this country is beyond anything I have ever seen," he said. "Speed is vital. Only governmental or other relief can hope to cope with this catastrophe.
But the comparative little we can do in feeding a percentage of the starving children will bring hope to thousands of other children and adults."Charles R. Crane Against Recognition of Soviets.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Charles R.
Crane, former Minister to China, is back from a tour of Russia with the conviction that no recognition can be given the soviet under present conditions. He said:"Russia is at the present moment a vast prison and the people are living under prison conditions. There is absolutely no liberty. As production is becoming less every day, both in agriculture and in industry, the economic pressure is constantly increasing. There is no social life.""The terror is present all the time and everywhere, and the new bourgeoisie and the new aristocracy have sliced a new empire right out from under the eyes of the world and not only reversed all future processes of evolution but, as regards liberty and progress, have pushed Russia back into the darkness in which she lay before the time of Peter the Great.""The intellectual starvation of Russia is quite as severe as the physical starvation. In a great university here I saw old professors trying to go through the motions of conducting their institution. It was dead and shocking. We know nothing whatever," they told me, "but the Moscow masters are nearly dead."Crane believes the refugees in Constantinople and the borders of Russia should get help from this country before the soviet of the Volga.Problems of the Coming Conference on the Limitation of Armaments Pointed Out by Gen. Hugh JohnsonFirst Task, He Says, Is to Secure Recognition of the Principle of Equilibrium of Technical Military Preparation Among Great Powers.The Post-Dispatch herewith presents a study on the subject of "Disarmament—its limitations and possibilities"—which has been especially prepared by Gen. Hugh Johnson, late of the General Staff, U. S. A. The articles give point and direction to the discussion of methods that are possible for the Washington conference to employ in bringing about the reduction and limitation of world armament. Gen. Johnson received the D. S. M. for his work during the war. He originated the plan for the selective draft and also the rules and policies that governed it and was the executive in charge. Later he was the commander of the Eighth Division of the army. He is a West Point graduate and has had a long and honorable career in the service which he left in 1919 to become assistant general manager of the Moline Plow Co. The first article of his series of six follows:ARTICLE I By Gen. Hugh Johnson, U. S. A.
(Retired.)(Copyright, 1921.) Copyright, 1921, by Press Pub. Co. (New York World.)The weapons of warfare are men, money and materials. Theoretically military strength is a direct function of these three. Practically, neither men, money nor materials are war power in the absence of facilities for their rapid conversion to warlike uses. These facilities constitute "armament." They are the fourth, and have nearly always been the determining factor. Indeed, to follow the mathematical analogy to a conclusion, the real measure of military strength is as a fraction whose numerator is the sum of war resources and whose denominator is the time required for their mobilization.Disarmament, therefore, intends only the restriction of these facilities, for obviously no advocate of the measure means to diminish in the slightest degree the real weapons of any nations—their men, their money, or their material resources. We regard only facilities for their mobilization armies, navies, their engines and equipment.

If there were no such thing as

GEN. HUGH JOHNSON.

armament, then the military strength of every nation would be the sum of its resources. If every nation were fully armed, the military strength of each would be the sum of its resources. Relatively the strength of any one in respect of any other would be exactly the same as though none was armed. For between the nations absolutely unarmed and the nations armed to the very teeth there is a difference only in the speed, the life blood and the billions wasted to provide the shining armor. There is no difference in relative strength—no advantage at all. This is the ridiculous folly of armament. The obvious suggestion of this apparent reduction to advantage is absolute disarmament.

Absolute Disarmament.

An imagined projection of such a state of affairs reveals what the principle of nationality forbids, for it is a condition would be that 1. The nation possessing the maximum of convertible resource would become the most powerful in a military sense.2. The nation with the strongest merchant marine would be mistress of the seas.3. If it be conceded that maximum earned resources ought to be the measure of military power, the principle might then be frustrated by some fortuitous advantage to a nation (perhaps a very insignificant one) by reason of its geographical or strategic position or its natural logistic control of some necessity quite as threatening and harassing to other nations as the possession of disproportionate military power is now.4. Some nations which have a natural right to live, supportable, however, only by a show of force, might have to renounce that right and disarm.5. The defensive policies which some nations have hitherto regarded as necessary for themselves andPrimarily Military and Economic Problem, and Only Incidentally Political; Fat-uity of Some Catchword Suggestions Now Current, as He Sees Them.

Magnanimity of Rivals.

A mere statement of these results discloses that, unless nations are willing to intrust their separate existence to the magnanimity of their rivals, they cannot agree to absolute disarmament, and further that, unless any project of disarmament considers and provides for at least these contingencies, it is foredoomed to failure. For, if a nation is threatened, whether it be by the armament, the resources or the strategical location of another, it will defend itself by armament. Unless this defense creates a nice balance of military strength, the nation armed against will correctly construe such action as a counter threat and will arm in turn to maintain the initial advantage. There can be no end to such a contest save destruction and no avoidance of it save equilibrium.The contest of modern armament originated in the German principle of the "nation in arms," conceived by Scharnhorst thus: "War is a struggle for national existence. Therefore, to hazard war with less than the entire resource of a nation, rendered always mobile for action, is folly."This principle had its ultimate expression in 1914. Unless the nations are willing to agree to the justice of maintaining practical military equilibrium on a reduced scale, the next war will be a repetition in kind of the one just passed, for if any nation is permitted to aspire to marked superiority of military preparation, then the principle of Scharnhorst is bleak, grim truth, and the nation that denies it must perish.The first task of the conference is, therefore, to secure recognition of the justice and adherence to the precepts of the principle of equilibrium of technical military preparation among great Powers. The second is to determine the concrete condition of each nation which will leave all in such a nicely balanced pattern of forces that none can decline to accede.It will not be so difficult to work out the pattern as to secure recognition of the principle. This is true because the Powers are not now in any such state of balance and its achievement involves some sacrifice of existing advantage. But it equally exists that a nation below the mark in natural advantage cannot justify armament to almost any extent on the plea of self-defense.
In other words, the very base and purpose of the conference is to seek and secure a balance.

COMMISSION OF LEGION IN SESSIONMore Drastic Legislation Governing Mailing of Anarchistic Literature Urged by Director.NO DESIRE TO RESTRICT PRESSReport to Kansas City Meeting Tells of Progress in Campaign for Better
Americanism.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 25.—

More drastic legislation governing the transmission of anarchistic and radical literature through the mails was recommended by the American Commission of the American Legion here yesterday through the report of the commission's director, Alvin M. Owsley, of Denton, Tex. The commission, which opened its annual meeting after hearing the director's report, began consideration of a large number of recommendations to be submitted to the national convention of the Legion here next week.The director's report recommends the passage of a law which would prohibit the sending through the mails of any printed, written, photographic or pictorial matter that has an un-American tendency and also clause prohibiting the sale of such matter.Members of the commission said, however, that nothing in the recommendations should be construed as aimed at the freedom of speech or the freedom of the press."Law Not Stringent Enough."
"There is too great a looseness now in the carriage through the mails of radical, anarchistic and otherwise un-American publications," said Director Owsley.The present laws are not stringent enough. They do not prohibit the dissemination of un-American propaganda."The commissioners discussed the case of Eugene V. Debs, now serving a prison term in the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta, after having been convicted of violating the wartime laws, and Grover C. Bergdoll, American draft evader, now in Europe.Concerning the Debs case, Lindsey Blair, of Texas, said:"Debs violated certain statutes of the United States. He was found guilty and sentenced to serve a term in the Federal Penitentiary and the American Legion proposes that that he pay the penalty meted out to him by constituted courts. The American Legion stands for upholding law and preserving order, and this it is determined to do in all and every case."Director Owsley's report said that progress has been made during the last year in the commission's campaign for more pronounced Americanism, and it stated that in a number of states legislation had been passed requiring that the English language be the only medium of instruction in the schools; that all schools shall offer courses in United States history and civ government; that colleges and universities shall give credit in their entrance examinations for those subjects.

Patriotic Exercises in Schools.

"The suggestion that a certain part of each day in the schools be devoted to patriotic exercises or the holding of a morale hour, has met with hearty response and the Stars and Stripes are flying from the flagpoles of more American schoolhouses than ever before in American history," said the report.More appropriate and solemn naturalization ceremonies for alien were urged in the report, which said that "naturalization ceremonies should be of such dignity as to leave a lasting impression on the applicant's mind of the importance of this occasion in his life, and not leave the impression that one alien voted immediately following the perfunctory ceremony of a court, 'Kiss the Bible and 50 cents' in making him a citizen of the United States. The Legion has already in every section of the country caused to be inaugurated and participated in naturalization ceremonies of dignity and solemnity and the newly naturalized citizen has been the first to express his or her appreciation."

Sessions Until Saturday.

The commission will remain in session until Saturday, when, it is expected, final recommendations will be drawn up for presentation to the legion convention.Members of the commission include, besides Director Owsley: Edgar W. Baird, Pennsylvania; R. H.

FLORIST AT PENITENTIARY, FOR LAST 8 YEARS, PAROLED

John Plujanen, Confined in 1911 for Murder Released to St. Louis Man.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 25.—Personnel officers at the penitentiary are looking for a florist among the prisoners to replace John Plujanen of St. Louis, a Serbian, who has served almost 10 years of a life sentence for murder and who was sent on his way home yesterday, paroled. Plujanen, for about eight years has been the custodian of the flower beds in the plaza in the center of the prison, which long have been the admiration of visitors. Plujanen, when 29 years old, was sent to the penitentiary in 1911 on a charge of having murdered a woman known as Hattie Hobson. He could not speak or understand English at that time and was assigned to a "tom-cot," as the prisoners designate a sewing machine in the prison shirt factory. It was some time before the young Serbian's ability with flowers became known and then he was transferred and took charge of the hot-houses and plant garden. His prison record has been good.

Only one visitor came to see the Serbian during his long term, here, and he was a lawyer whom Serbians at St. Louis had retained. The florist spent his spare hours in learning to read and write English. He has been paroled to Lazar Petkovich, a St. Louis merchant.

TAXI COMPANY SUES TO STOP IMITATION BY ANOTHER FIRM

Black and White Concern Charges White Taxi Co. Adopted Methods That Have Confused Public.

Carl P. Boester, trustee of the Black and White Taxicab Co. of St. Louis, filed a suit for injunction and damages in the Circuit Court today against the White Taxi Co., 5263 Delmar boulevard, and 10 individuals connected with it. The court is asked to restrain the White company from continuing to conduct a business imitative of the plaintiff's business and from continuing to operate in a manner to cause the public to confuse the two companies.

The petition states that the Black and White company was the first to operate in St. Louis with taxicabs of the design in use and that the White company in September opened a business with taxicabs similar in design but much cheaper, the only difference being that where the Black and White company uses black paint, a difference which is not noticeable at night, when the taxicab business is best. It is alleged that this similarity has misled the public, to the damage of the Black and White company in the sum of $5000.

PROPHETIC SOCIETY IS TOLD "DARWINISM HAS HAD ITS DAY"

W. J. Bryan Calls It "Scientific Guessing" and Says It Leads People Away From Bible.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—"Darwinism has had its day," Dr. Lyell Rader, chemist of Chicago, declared yesterday in an address before the first meeting of the Prophetic Bible and Science Society. In the future, he said, the truth of science would be applied by "rigid scientific methods" as contrasted with the "pseudo science of the past."

Dr. Rader was introduced by William Jennings Bryan, who said he had come to the conference to "voice my thought as to the iniquity of Darwinism—that guess-science which has led so many Christian people away from belief in God's inspired word."

"Instead of allowing the higher critics to cut out of the Bible that which conflicts with scientific guessing," Bryan continued, "we propose to cut guessing out of science."

CANAL'S 4TH PROFITABLE YEAR

Excess Receipts Now Enough to Wipe Out Deficit on Slides.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—For the fourth consecutive fiscal year the Panama Canal, in 1921, shows a profit, according to official reports received here. The excess in receipts over expenditures in the year ending June 30, last, is given as approximately $1,712,000, "or sufficient to wipe out the last of the deficit resulting from slides in the earlier years of operation."

The cost of the canal to June 30, or "invested capital," is given as $388,542,271.95.

"It is not possible then, that in the long era of readjustment upon which we are entering for the nation to lay aside old prejudices and old antagonisms and in the broad, clear light of nationalism enter upon a constructive policy in dealing with these intricate issues? Just as we shall prove ourselves capable of doing this we shall insure the industrial progress, the agricultural security, the social and political safety of our whole country, regardless of race or sections and along the line of ideals superior to every consideration of groups or class of race or color or section or prejudice."

MAIL HOLDUP LOOT MAY REACH $1,000,000

It Is Learned Another $1,000,000 in Securities May Have Been Lost in New York Robbery.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Belief that the loot in Monday night's daring mail truck holdup would exceed $1,000,000 was indicated by postoffice authorities today following a partial check of the contents of the five stolen pouches, while from other sources it was learned that the total might exceed $2,000,000.

Officials of one Wall street firm not yet listed as among those affected by the robbery, said that firm had sent $1,000,000 in securities by registered mail on Monday night, but that they had been unable to learn yet whether the securities were in one of the five pouches taken by the three bandits who held up the truck in lower Broadway.

Losses Made Public.

Known losses made public so far included $463,000 in bonds, mailed to clients by the Chase National Bank; $8900 in securities sent out by Hitt, Farwell & Parks; $3400 in bonds mailed by Remick, Hodges & Co. and $4900 in securities sent out by Callaway, Fish & Co. All these losses were said to be covered by private insurance.

It also was reported that a $50,000 consignment of currency was included in the stolen mail, but this was not confirmed by postoffice authorities. It was said a full list of the losses probably could not be compiled for several days.

Search for Robbers.

The three men who committed the hold-up are being sought by a large force of Federal agents and city detectives. A reward of $5000 for each of the robbers, dead or alive, offered by Postmaster-General Hays, intensified interest in the man-hunt.

Postoffice inspectors also are working inside the City Hall Postal Station, whence the stolen pouches emanated, to determine whether the robbers had an "inside" confederate. The fact that robbers picked with unerring hand from 28 pouches, five of which were richly laden, was taken as an indication that they had as a confederate an employee inside the station.

RESIDENTS SAY DEAD HORSE WAS LEFT FOR WEEK IN STREET

Complaint Made That Chances Lay From Last Wednesday to Yesterday Near 2800 Neosho Street.

Residents in the neighborhood of 2800 Neosho street have complained that a horse killed in front of that address last Wednesday was left in the street until yesterday. The Street Department, which has charge of the removal of dead animals, said the matter had not been reported until Monday morning.

The police assert that they sent reports to the Street Department Thursday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday. The Humane Society, whose veterinarian killed the animal at the request of its owner, Edward Dehtjen, 4471 Dewey avenue, because it was suffering from paralysis, says its veterinarians report all animals killed direct to the Street Department.

IMPORTANT PROBLEMS BEARING ON SUBJECT OF LIMITING ARMAMENT

this state of justice and equality; not only because it is the fair and practicable result, but because it is the only one to which imperiled nations can subscribe.

Goal of Conference.

If this be the true goal of the coming conference then it must be recognized at the outset that equality of armament does not mean merely arithmetical equality of tonnage, bayonets, guns and sabers. It means equality of immediate availability of military power in three fields of advance:

Strategical and geographical location.

Economic circumstance.

Technical military and naval provision.

It is, therefore, primarily a military and an economic problem and only incidentally a political one, and the very statement of it reveals the fatuity of some catchword suggestions already current and carrying all the peril of their kind.

Most captivating of all is that of "absolute disarmament." Close behind it is "defensive armament." This is a meaningless mouthful of words. "Defensive armament" is a contradiction in terms, because "armament" implies offense. What would be an adequate "defense" of the sea lanes connecting the British Empire might be an overwhelming menace to the homing commerce of every nation along those routes the moment the British mind turned to a hostile mood. The size of the army France regards as necessary for the defense of the Rhine enables France to say with perfect truth and engaging candor that it is powerful enough to submerge Europe.

There is a third caption equally glib—"ratable disarmament." This proceeds on the entirely erroneous assumption that the nations now stand in delicately balanced state of military equilibrium. Since this is not true a proportionate reduction of all will leave them in their present precarious state of unbalance. No nation which has hitherto felt a threat strong enough to induce further armament is likely to accede to such a project. Sometimes the suggestion of "ratable reduction" takes the form of proportionate money limitation, overlooking such facts as that some nations can arm

Dear Mr. Krebs:—

With reference to your recent inquiry as to our opinion of the recent coupon campaign in the St. Louis Post Dispatch.

From the stand point of redemption of coupons, merchandising co-operation and publicity, we consider this campaign one of the most, if not the most successful that we have ever run.

The high percentage of redemption made in comparison to other campaigns, and so relatively small part of the success with which we are in merchandising this campaign to the retailer to co-operation gives us along these lines by the St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Yours very truly,

PRESCRIPTION BEER CAN BE MADE IN NINE STATES

Situation Under Federal Regulations, According to Anti-Saloon League Counsel.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Issuance of permits to brewers for the manufacture of medical beer under the new Treasury regulations will proceed with promptness and dispatch, Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair said today.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Prescriptions of beer as medicine under the new Treasury regulations can legally be made in only nine states: Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, said yesterday in a statement commenting on issuance of the regulations.

These states, Wheeler said, are California, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Wisconsin. Prescription of beer also is possible, he said, in the nonprohibited portions of Louisiana and Maryland.

Missourians Probably Will Be Able to Get Medical Beer.

By the Associated Press. JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 23.—Missourians probably will be able to get medical beer under the regulations announced by the Federal Treasury Department, it is indicated here. While Attorney-General Harrett has announced that he would issue no ruling on the question until he had received a copy of the Federal regulations, he indicates that the Federal regulations will override the state "bone dry" act with respect to beer.

The Missouri law, enacted by the 1921 Legislature, provides: "Nothing in this act contained shall be so construed as to prevent or prohibit the manufacture of any intoxicating liquor other than ethyl alcohol or wine for medical purposes, when such liquor is manufactured under authority, or permit of, and in accordance with the regulations prescribed by, the Treasury Department of the United States of America."

OWNERSHIP OF MAD DOG THAT BIT NINE PERSONS DETERMINED

Police Ask That Complaint Be Filed Against Person Responsible for It Being at Large.

Following receipt of an official report from the City Veterinarian that the collie dog which bit nine persons in South St. Louis last Friday was suffering from rabies, the police today forwarded to the City Counselor an account of an investigation made to determine ownership of the dog.

The police say the dog was the property of Victor N. Frey, 2813A Shenandoah avenue, and that it escaped last Friday morning from the basement of the home of Frey's mother-in-law, who resides at 449 Elcheiberger avenue. The police have asked that a Police Court complaint be filed against the person responsible for the dog having been at large.

Those who were bitten included several pupils of the Gardenville School, King's highway and Gravois avenue, are undergoing Pasteur treatment as a measure against hydrophobia. The dog was killed by a policeman.

Praying Colonels Better Than Ever, For Harvard Game

Crimson Eleven to Face Squad Especially "Prepped" for Saturday's Battle.

STARS STILL WITH TEAM

Danville Machine Has Also Been Reinforced With Strong Substitutes.

ALL DANVILLE CHEERS AS CENTRE DEPARTS FOR BATTLE WITH HARVARD

DANVILLE, Ky., Oct. 25.—The Centre football team departed for Cambridge this morning, expecting to make a good showing against Harvard Saturday.

Defensively the eleven is better than last year; but offensively the team has found itself but once this year—against Transylvania Saturday, winning 34-0.

McMillin is playing better, during his final year, than ever before. Against Transylvania he alone gained 421 yards in one half.

Twenty-five players, with coaches and managers and 50 Danville rooters, are en route to Boston today. Twelve halfbacks are in the party and Coach Moran expects to use at least eight against Harvard.

Practically the entire population of Danville was at the station to give the team a rousing send-off this morning. There has been no boasting here, as last year; but the Danvillians think the team has an even chance to win.

Not much has been heard of the "Praying Colonels" of last year's football fame—the eleven that rose nearly to the top in two years, despite the fact that the school it represented—Centre College, of Danville, Ky.—had an enrollment under 400.

Nevertheless the Centre team will be very much on the map this week, as it meets Harvard at Cambridge next Saturday. "Bo" McMillin, the All-American quarterback of last year; Roberts, Snoddy, Capt. Armstrong and half a dozen others of last year's famous machine, are still with it.

Centre's schedule has been designed to give the team light work without fear of putting the veterans on the hospital list for the big game. The team that came from Danville for Cambridge today, is probably just as strong as, and in Danville is believed to be stronger than, the eleven that threw a great fear into the hearts of the Crimson players last year.

Centre's scores thus far this year are as follows:

- 14, Clemson 0.
- 14, Virginia Polytechnic 0.
- 28, St. Xavier 4.
- 38, Transylvania 0.

Slogan is, "Beat Harvard."

The remaining games on its schedule are Harvard, Kentucky University, Auburn and Washington and Lee; so that it will be seen the Centre eleven has been pointed for Harvard. That it will be dangerous seems certain, although Harvard solved its attack last year after the first half.

A Danville correspondent writes as follows concerning the eleven that will invade Cambridge next Saturday:

"It is not too much to say this year's Colonels are better than last year. They are much superior to the wonder team of 1919. The 1921 squad has a business-like methodical way of going about reaching for the other fellow's goal that has greatly heartened the Southerners."

"There will be no grandstand plays by Centre, as the motto is Harvard. The aim of every man will be to fill his part in the machine, leaving McMillin, Roberts, Armstrong, Tanner, Gordy or some of the others to do the rest of the team's work, talks and almost every Harvard—the slogan for the entire football year has been "Beat Harvard."

Last Year for McMillin.

"Bo" McMillin is playing his last football. Next year he will have graduated and will be a coach at Centre. It is likely, however, that Moran, National League baseball umpire during the summer, will be head coach.

"Everybody knows what Roberts, McMillin, Tanner and Snoddy can do. But a lot of new material will be hurried against Harvard next Saturday. There is, for instance, Thompson, playing his first year of college football, and giving promise of soon developing into one of the Centre's greatest ground gainers. Thompson is good at defense and sometimes relieves Snoddy, so the older man can get into the backfield."

"Gordy, a young Louisville, is doing as well at left end as he ever did against Harvard. Gibson is going fine at left guard and Red Roberts, old-time Centre fullback, who is now playing tackle just as well as he ever played full, is a host in himself."

"Kubala, at center, has exceeded expectations in the four games in which Centre has played so far, and Right Guard Creager has long ago earned himself a place in the sunlight of the regular squad. James, at right tackle, is a tower of strength, and Snoddy, high school boy last year, has made good at right end. Bartlett holds down the left half position to the full satisfaction of coaches and teammates, while Capt. Armstrong, the hefty right half, is a veteran, with McMillin and Roberts. Tanner is the fullback who earned laurels last year. The man named will start the game at Harvard, while

Charley Brickley in Series Of Football Articles, Tells How Game Should Be Played

Lesson No. 1—Falling on the Ball

Here is the first of a series of 12 articles written for Post-Dispatch readers by Charley Brickley, once the player around whose wonderful running and kicking the Harvard offense was built. Brickley was an All-American back for two years, and coach at various institutions since leaving college. Brickley's stories will appear daily, except when otherwise announced.

By Charley Brickley, Harvard's Greatest Football Captain (1912, '13, '14). (Copyright, 1921.)

In falling on the ball it is imperative to throw the body well over and in front of the ball, as shown in figure 1, at the same time clinching it tightly with both hands. In order to insure against a fumble, the ball should be firmly pressed against the pit of the stomach, the legs drawn up tightly to the body so that the ball will be held in a vise formed by hands, legs and stomach as shown in figure 2.

In scooping up a loose ball while running it should be lifted with one hand behind the ball, the other hand following the "scoop" at any angle to prevent a fumble. It was this method of picking up a loose ball that enabled "Sam" White, the famous Princeton left end, to run 95 yards to a touchdown in the 1911 Princeton game with Harvard, and two weeks later in the game with Yale to pick up a ball, covered with slippery mud, and run 65 yards to a touchdown. It is probably true that Youngstrom, the famous Dartmouth star, by using this method trapped loose balls faster than any other gridiron player, and it was the same method of scooping up the ball that enabled Scheerer of the 1919 Princeton team to score his touchdown against Yale.

It almost invariably is a fatal mistake to fall on the ball with the chest as shown in figure 4. As illustrated in the diagram the inevitable tendency will be to have the ball loosed loose from the player's grasp as a result of the impact with the chest. Similarly, in scooping up the ball with both hands back of it (shown in figure 5) the chest will be in the way of the ball, and the same mistake will be made. The writer of these articles assumes that coaches and players are familiar with signal codes, the physical inspection that is needed before a game as strenuous as football is attempted, and that the proper methods of playing are known. But inquiries on these and similar subjects will gladly be answered.

WRAV'S COLUMN

Cut a Poor Figure.

It may be said that Dr. H. L. Williams, football coach of the Minnesota Golden Gophers, in his attempt to evade the Big Ten rule requiring numerals on the jerseys of players, cut a very poor figure. The students had his number.

Dr. Williams, to comply with the letter but not the spirit of the rule, put FOUR numbers on the back of each player, instead of a maximum of two, with the intent to confuse observers. To the veteran coach, the rule merely served to assist visiting scouts to better solve the intricacies of the "shift" plays. He sought to render it difficult for these scouts by adding from two to three additional numerals.

Dr. Williams' unsportsmanlike evasion put it directly up to the university, which last week repudiated the plan and forced Williams to return to the old system. The student committee also sent a letter of apology to Northwestern University to atone for the one in which the Williams plan was employed.

Evasions of the sort put the game back to the dark ages from which it emerged with so much travail. The incident in much shows that college students still stand for real sportsmanship, in contrast to the "win-at-any-cost" belief of some paid coaches, who seem to work on the theory that their jobs depend upon winning championships, rather than upon developing a high standard of sportsmanship and a sound physique in the students.

More Skull Practice.

ROUGHHOUSE WARES. A heavyweight negro pugilist, who has fought acceptably in several local bouts, was knocked out of the ring by John Lester Johnson in a recent bout in New York. While lying on the floor among the seats he was counted out, but he came to in about 12 seconds. It was thought that he might be seriously injured, but he proved to be unhurt.

Roughhouse probably landed on his head.

Biding His Time.

THE first "peep" that has been heard in some time from Byron Bancroft Johnson, one time czar of Organized Baseball, was heard last week when he volunteered a little conversation relative to baseball in Mexico. Prior to that, Ban had emitted about as much noise as a tomb of the Pharaohs.

At the world's series, the man there is some excellent material among the substitutes.

More Good Subs Available.

Centre will meet Harvard in better condition for a real battle than last season. The Colonels have a better squad this year and there are more substitutes who are really able to substitute. There is one place where Centre fell down against Harvard last year. Harvard was able to put substitutes in whenever they were needed, while little Centre just didn't have 'em to put in. This season, however, she has

Trambitas' Real Class to Develop In Bout Tonight

Youthful Welterweight Title-Candidate Faces Highly Tried Foe in Tillman.

By John E. Wray.

Johnny Tillman, 23, birthplace Minneapolis, weight 142 or over, profession boxer, will exhibit his prowess here at the Armory, tonight. In a 10-round bout with Alex Trambitas of Portland, Ore. The Central Athletic Club, which is the pugilistic promotion enterprises—if we include three that need the pulmotor—will put on the entertainment.

Tillman is a widely talked about veteran of rare cleverness, it is stated. His record shows that in recent years he has faced the very best talent in the country, including champions in two classes—Benny Leonard and Jack Britton—who were considered to be the middleweight champion and other well-known names are also in his record. Nobody appears to have marred Tillman's reputation greatly in the 10 years of his fight career. On the other hand, neither has Tillman caused any frenzy of fear among the champions or title aspirants, all of whom have come through safe in battles with the Minneapolisian.

On the contrary, they seemed to like Johnny's ring society. The reason perhaps may be found in Tillman's record, which shows that while he apparently is clever, he is rarely dangerous to men of his size. He seems to lack the dynamite that bumps off good ones. In fact, it has been four years since Tillman knocked out an opponent. In 1917 he stopped Charles Lawson and Buck Weiz, whoever they are. In 1916 he flattened Cour D'Alene Boyden, and in the first two years of his career he flattened six men—a grand total of nine opponents and knocked out in 10 years of ring experience.

But if Tillman has no high explosive in his gloves, he is said to have everything else that goes to make an invincible fighter. He has met the boy he encounters tonight—Trambitas—and he gained a draw at Portland in 1918. He believes that Trambitas has appeared in one local test, he giving the rugged and game Harvey Throp a first-class trimming.

As a result of the failure of the Municipal Soccer Association and the St. Louis Soccer League to sign an agreement regarding the players of the two leagues, at their last meeting, the Executive Committee of the Municipal Soccer League adopted the following rule: "Effective Nov. 1, 1921, a player officially registered with a team in the Municipal Soccer League of St. Louis, upon release, shall not participate in a Municipal Soccer League contest for eight days after the release. This rule does not prohibit another team manager in said league signing and registering said player at a time of release. Evans Gives List of Golf Masters At Certain Shots

He Would Advise Boy to Watch Knepper, Jones, Hutchison, Barnes and Ouimet.

By Charles (Chick) Evans Jr.

I was thinking the other night of whom I envied most as a golf player. On many occasions people have complimented me by hoping that their sons would grow up to play as I do but I feel that I have made a great many mistakes and am far from being an ideal golfer.

If I had a boy and I wanted him to be a champion I believe I would take him out to watch the following men play golf and tell him to pattern after them. First of all I should want my son to be a good wooden club player. With this in mind the name of the great British player, Arden, comes to my mind, but as he is in England he is too far away to be seen. Next to Arden I believe I like Bob McDonald and his wooden club play the best of all professional players. Rudy Knepper is a surprise, you I think has the best full swing style of any of our amateur players. I like the way Francis Ouimet drives in brassies with the qualification that I am never sure whether they are going to be on the court.

Knepper Has Rhythm.

Jesse Guilford, our champion, gets great distance, but he is always in danger on a fast course where his terrifically hit ball keeps going deeper into trouble when his shots are a little off the line. I believe there is more rhythm in Rudy Knepper's strokes. And somehow I like rhythm because it is so closely related to gracefulness. I believe that Bobby Jones is as fine a long club player as there is swinging a club today. With his great strength he gets long distances and, as everyone knows, is greater with iron clubs than with wood. He is usually very accurate. I stood just behind the ninth green at St. Louis and waited for Bobby to play his second shot from a high hill very far away. I saw the polished blade gleam in the sunlight. A white ball outlined itself against the blue sky and at the moment I expected to see its strength spent, I saw it sort of leap forward again for additional distance. Surely Bobby Jones has something extra in his long iron shot.

When it comes to the half shots I would like to see a boy pattern after Jack Hutchison. For half shots in the air Jack has no equal. He is also master of the cut shot. I am sure that when he gets around to the green, for I like to see the ball pitching on to it.

Light Grip Worthless in Rain.

Of the amateurs I do not really know who I would pick. Perhaps I am so prejudiced on the way I play them that I do not think the others do it quite the right way. And yet my very light grip, wherein I use only a sense of touch for these short or short shots, is absolutely worthless on a rainy day. Some day they will call off golf matches as they now do tennis matches, baseball matches and other outdoor contests when it rains terribly hard. It may be best if only for the reason that the spectators are able to enjoy it.

I believe Jim Barnes is the finest chip shot player in the world. Jerome Travers was to have a distinct advantage for that little troublesome shot just off the edge of the green. When it comes to putting I believe Francis Ouimet has the best style and execution. I say this in spite of the fact that he, too, has his ups and downs. I heard it said at St. Louis that he had been putting on many greens of those closing holes in his match with Johnston, but he has great style and a fine, bold way of hitting the ball. Jerry Travers is perhaps our greatest putter.

In match playing we have never developed a golfer who is so abundantly at home in a man-to-man contest as Walter Hagen. In medal play I would prefer Jim Barnes, for he always has a good score.

Outside of all the advice to play with a light grip, which is a must for competition. This includes temperament. It is a large subject and will be discussed in another article.

JUNIOR SOCCER LEAGUE HOLDS MEETING TODAY

A meeting of the managers of the Junior division of the Municipal Soccer League will be held at noon today to fill the vacancy in that organization created by the withdrawal of the Perpetual-HELP team. At present there are six junior teams registered, three each in the Fairground and Sherman Park divisions. Teams desiring to play in these divisions must file application at the office of the association, room 320, Municipal Court Building. In the event of no other teams entering, the league will probably be made into one group of six teams.

Players Lou Hamilton and Dan Menendez of the St. Mary and Joseph and Garcia Club teams, respectively, will appear before the Executive Committee to explain the actions in last Sunday's game which led to their expulsion by Referee Paul Murphy.

COAST LEAGUE INQUIRES AS TO GEDEON'S STATUS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 25.—Telegrams to Judge Landis, baseball commissioner, and President Ben Johnson of the American League, asking them to rule on the status of Joe Gedeon in organized baseball, were sent yesterday by President William H. McCarthy of the Pacific Coast Baseball League.

Gedeon is expected to play in an exhibition game at Marysville, Cal.

MIKE EDDY, ONE OF YALE'S BEST ENDS, OUT OF GAME, PROBABLY FOR SEASON

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 25.—In the practice game at the Yale bow yesterday afternoon, which was the first of the year between the varsity and the freshmen, Mike Eddy, one of Yale's best ends, was injured while trying to break up a freshman forward pass, and with the season less than four weeks old, it is doubtful if he will get back into the game. The injury is to his knee.

Eddy, though a junior in college, has not played football before, confining his attention to baseball. He weighs 170 pounds and is 5 feet 11 inches tall.

The Yale team has been remarkably free from injuries this fall. Just at present Emerson Qualle, a dangerous contender for one of the guard positions; Al Norrie, a promising center; and Eli Cutler, last year's end, are off the team with injuries, but as a whole it has been a good year. The Yale football team is expected to be announced.

JUDGE LANDIS WILL GIVE DECISION IN RUTH CASE IN ABOUT TWO WEEKS

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Babe Ruth, baseball's home run king, will keep his penalty for violating the rule against post-season barnstorming in about two weeks, it was learned here today. Judge Landis, baseball commissioner, is now preparing his decision, it is understood.

The Judge said today he had nothing but newspaper reports of a proposed visit from Ruth to apologize for violating the rule, and is any such Ruth's apology would have no bearing on the Judge's decision.

Suspension for a part of the next baseball season was reported to be under consideration as Ruth's judgment a short time ago, but Judge Landis refused to give any indication of his decision in advance of its announcement.

TWO ARRESTS IN RAID ON BELVEDERE CAFE

Proprietor and Bartender Later Released on Bond—Contents of Two Bottles Seized.

Police seeking evidence of violation of the State prohibition law raided the Belvedere Cafe, Euclid avenue and Delmar boulevard, at 10:45 o'clock last night and confiscated what appeared to them to be a bottle of whiskey and a bottle of beer.

The proprietor, Joseph G. Gonella, and his bartender, Robert Weiman, were taken to the Page Boulevard Police Station, where they later were released on bond.

Three Others Arrested on Liquor Charges and Three Stills Found. Martin Teelke of 2801 Dunbar avenue was arrested last night after police had found three stills in the basement of his home and a large quantity of orange and plum mash fermenting in tubs.

Edward Zimmermann of 2801 De Kalb street, a horsehoe, was arrested in the afternoon, when police found a bottle of home brew on a table at which he and another man were playing cards in the room of his brother, Otto Zimmermann, 2129 South Seventh street. Six bottles of beer and a half pint bottle containing supposed whiskey were found in the icebox.

Peter Rustas, manager of a saloon at 524 Clark avenue, was arrested at 2 p. m., after detectives had found a half pint bottle tucked in the waistband of his trousers and concealed by his bar apron.

WORKHOUSE PRISONER BEATEN

The police and an ambulance were called to the workhouse yesterday afternoon and Fred Eckenfeld, 35 years old, a machinist, of 7624 Kelly avenue, serving a year for wife and child abandonment, was turned over to them, with many abrasions and contusions on the head and body. He was taken to the City Hospital and his condition is said to be serious.

Eckenfeld says he was working in the engine room when two other prisoners attacked him with a club and a piece of gas pipe, without provocation. Supt. Morgan said it was a general fight, in which the other two got the best of Eckenfeld. The other two have been placed in solitary confinement.

Deere & Co. Reduces Dividends.

YOUR WIDOW AND YOUR WILL

STATISTICS reveal that the average estate left outright to a widow is dissipated or lost in less than seven years.

Out of every hundred widows only eighteen are left in good circumstances; forty-seven are obliged to work for a living; thirty-five are left in absolute want.

There are today in the United States 3,000,000 widows over sixty-five years of age, one-third of whom lack the necessities of life.

The selection of an executor to manage and conserve your estate is a matter of prime obligation; protect your widow and your children by the selection of this strong national bank as your executor and trustee.

National banks are hedged about with every safeguard which governmental experience and ingenuity can suggest.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

THE EASIEST WAY.

(More than 400 ex-convicts are driving taxicabs in New York City.)

When Dog-Faced Dorgan served his term—Some seven years of time—He had a purpose fixed and firm To make more out of crime.
"I need a better means," said he,
To shake the live ones down.
So now he drives a taxicab, A rusty wreck of dirty drab, And gets a hundred at a grab By night in Gotham town.

When Dave the Dip climbed up the wall And hurried south one day, He said, "It will not do at all To steal the same old way.
I now must have fried terrapin, And champagne to uncork.
So now he's raising taxi fares And shaking down the millionaires His stand is by the Subway stairs In little old New York.

The other convicts in the pen Each wear a hopeful smirk, When they get thinking, now and then,
Of going back to work.
They will not need to burgle now,
All life will be a lark.
They'll all get in the taxi game Amassing wealth, and maybe fame, But getting plenty just the same On Broadway after dark.

Labor Men Said to Have

Tuesday.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Ben W. Hooper, president of the Railroad Labor Board, today announced that the "big five" executives at the Masonic Temple shortly after noon and said the strike had not been settled yet, that settlement could hardly be expected while he was at the meeting. He had been before the labor presenting what he described as "vague possibility" for settlement. President Lee of the trainmen accompanied Hooper back to the board office, and then returned to the brotherhood conference. The union meeting broke soon after Hooper left, with an announcement that the five organizations would hold separate meetings at 1 p. m., and a joint meeting at 2 p. m. The conference of the union was said to have been arranged at the instance of the Labor Board, and was attended by the members of executive committees of the union. Hooper stated that he wanted to understand that he had made promises for the board or for himself. Hooper was accompanied by Whitney, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. Their presence led to reports that W. G. Lee, president of the union, was backing the peace movement.

Conference With Hooper.
The three grand vice-presidents of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, H. P. Doherty, Griffing and F. A. St. Burge, arrived at the Labor Board headquarters at 3:30 o'clock and were in conference with Hooper. Asked if he brought good tidings, Daugherty replied to a newspaper reporter: "Yes, but don't imagine means too much."

Reported Proposal of Board.
The proposition said to have been made to the railroad employees yesterday's public investigation that they should call off the dog and intrust to the Labor Board adjustment of the complaints with up to the strike vote.

O. Cashen, head of the St. Louis, asserted after yesterday's session of the board's investigation nothing had been brought out which would affect the strike call.

Board Decision by Tomorrow.
Members of the board announced after the hearing that they would make known their decision on threatened strike, which the railroad executives say would be in violation of the board's wage cut on July 1 today or tomorrow.

In labor circles early today were current that the brotherhood leaders had been quietly told by the board members that the issues leading up to the strike proposed further cuts in wages, elimination of time and a half overtime, were removed as a result of the strike by the board's announcement on Tuesday.

Most of Executive Department.
The brotherhood leaders at investigation yesterday, with the exception of W. G. Lee of the men, admitted that the propositions and changes in rules influential in the strike vote were wage cut of July 1 already effect.
